A HANDSOME NURSE

The Cause of W. P. Fuller's Trip to Europe.

WHY PROPERTY WAS DEEDED TO HIS WIFE

A Secret Transaction Which Leaked Out—Forced to Divide—About Buckley and Hearst.

WRITTEN FOR "THE TRIBUNE."

About half a dozen years ago William P. Fuller, son of the partner in the firm of Whittier, Fuller & Co., married, and society made quite a fuss about the wedding. The bride was Laura P. Pike, the daughter of the proprietor of Pike's restaurant, and a man particularly well known in San Francisco for a good many things. He had a lawsuit with Swain over the right to call his Market-street eating house Swain's restaurant. He had a fight with his waiters, and was the first in San Francisco to engage girls to take the place of the sons of Erin, who had a monopoly of the trade of bash slinging up to that time. He was boycotted, and appealed to the law. He also went into bankruptcy. As any of these things was sufficient of itself to make a man famous, there need be no wonder that the whole of them combined gained for him a tremendous degree of notoriety.

Now Fuller was very rich, so rich, in fact, that he did not know what to do with his father's money. He was a good fellow, too, like to shoot pigeons, played a bad game of billiards and enjoyed about all the fun that was going on in the town. There was never any scandal about him and mothers regarded him as about the most eligible man in San Francisco for their daughters to marry—that is, mothers who were in the social swim so regarded him.

Therefore, when his engagement was announced to Laura P. Pike, the daughter of a man who was distinctly not in the social swim, there was a buzz of tongues like the whirr of the wings of a million locusts and the noise of it could be heard from Monterey on the south to Napa Soda Springs, the then northern boundary of California fashion.

That Laura P. Pike was a good girl every one knew and it was also admitted that she had some slight claim to be thought a beauty, which I believe is as much as any woman will admit about another, but that William Fuller, the rich, dashing, hand-some social swell, should marry a girl so far, far away from the correct thing, socially considered, was a trifle more than society could stand. Naturally enough, society said that the lion of plate glass and white lead could not be happily mated with the offspring of a very much third class restaurant and all sorts of dire disasters were predicted. He would tire of her because she was not of the kind that the son of a wholesale paint man should wed and she would wear her young life out in a vain attempt to escape the conventional restraints of his social surroundings.

That is what they said, and a good deal more.

But young women of taste and sense are apt to make good wives, even if they were not rich, and the pair got along together as well as most married people. So far as is known, they never had any more serious trouble than comes from a husband's temper when a wife is sulky because her latest dress is not a success, and on her side there was not greater cause for complaint than an occasional late night at the club, or an obviously false excuse when he wished to take a run with the boys and she desired him to take her to the opera.

Two weeks ago the pair started for Europe with their children, and all the world might have thought it was well with them but for the accidental discovery made in the office of the City and County Recorder.

In San Francisco, as in other towns, it is the custom for the banks, commercial agencies and real estate men to make a complete record of all deeds filed which relate to real estate transfers, and there was a good deal of fuss when on last Sunday it was found that on May 21st Gunnison & Booth had filed a deed for quite a lot of real estate from William P. Fuller to Laura P. Fuller, his wife. The land was all producing an income, and was variously valued at $40,000 or $70,000. For a fact its real value is more than $100,000. When the news leaked out that such a deed had been made, recorded and concealed there was a great deal of talk, but it was all about how such a deed could have been kept from the public and not about why such a deed should have been made. Curiosity about the first has not yet been satisfied, but I think I can throw some light on the other matter. The deed was made and concealed to avoid a great big Scandal with a big, big S. Laura P. Fuller is pretty, refined and graceful, but man's fancy is so wayward that even those qualities are not sufficient to help him keep the vows of matrimony. In fact there are some who say that he cannot keep them if temptation comes, and others again, like Ouida, aver that he is under no obligations to keep them. Certainly there is never any adequate punishment for him if he does go astray, except in Oakland, where the possessor of the other woman is apt to shoot. Now, there came to the home of Fuller to act as the nurse of his sick father a trained graduate of the art ministrative. Oh, but she was a siren! Soft of speech gentle of gesture, round and plump of limb, languorous in motion, sweetly sensual in repose, she was calculated to make a man permanently sick for the sake of her caressing attentions.

But she was a good nurse, the old sufferer liked her, and all was well. Mrs. Fuller, sensible woman, was not given to watching her husband, and if she had been there is no proof that she would have been able to avert what was coming.

When nature is putting forth her wondrous efforts for the perpetuation of the human race there are signs not easily noticed except by those who have borne the burden of maternity. One day Mrs. Fuller asked the nurse if she were married, and, on receiving a negative answer, told her it was plain that it would be better for her character if she had been joined in the bonds some time before. The girl indignantly denied that there was anything wrong, but shortly afterward she left the house, and the affair would have ended there but for an accident.

To conceal the knowledge of her folly from the world she had recourse to a doctor of the Hall species and he gave her the assistance she asked. But she did not pay him and he sent the bill for his professional services to Fuller. That bill, by one of those streaks of ill luck that will occur, fell into the hands of Mrs. Fuller and she soon found out all about the manner in which it was contracted. Then there was a nice row in the Fuller mansion. To the crime, there was added the insult of its occurrence beneath the roof that sheltered his own true wife, and she being a woman of spirit, as most San Francisco women are, gave him her opinion of his conduct in terms of chilling contempt.

It is bad enough for a man to be suspected of this sort of thing, but when he is caught so that he cannot even make a decent stagger at lying out of it, the language that the insulted lady can use will burn through a hide as thick as the usual bluntness of a San Francisco poolseller. Fuller made strenuous efforts to smooth the thing over, but his wife would not listen to any proposition looking to the countenance of connubial relations and refused to condone the offense on any conditions. She would have a divorce and that as quickly as possible.

Now Fuller is a man with a good deal of pride, and he had no wish for the jokes and jibes that would be incident to his appearance in court as the lover of a nurse, albeit a gifted one. So he made the most strenuous efforts to keep the trouble secret, and would have succeeded but for the fact that there was a howl about concealing the record of the deeds. He made an agreement with his wife to deed her this property named above, take her to Europe with the children, draw up an agreement of separation to be changed to divorce in a quiet way if she so desired, and then he was to return to San Francisco, leaving her behind. Of course there were lawyers to assist in this settlement, Estee for the lady and Gunnison & Booth for the man, but with all their smartness they could not save their client from scandal. A school boy would have had sense enough to have advised that he give the lady cash, which he might raise by selling the lands, if he liked, but these smart men of law had to advise him to deed realty, which was as well known as the Palace Hotel. As the story has come out it is probable that the lady will secure a divorce, there being no possible advantage now in silence.

The Examiner's blast at Buckley has been the cause of a good deal of complaint from the ex-boss' friends, who say that the son should not attack the man who helped the father in politics. Without pretending to any more knowledge of the figure that Buckley cut in Hearst's election than appears on the surface, I can say that at no time did Senator Hearst owe Buckley even thanks for anything he got in politics. At the time of the San Jose convention Buckley did not control more than one ward in San Francisco, the others being in the hands of Dick Carroll, John Murphy, or else independent. When Hearst, who was the only San Francisco candidate except poor Jim Johnson, was beaten, he was the largest giver and the hardest worker for Stoneman's election. He contributed at one time upwards of $30,000 to the National Central Committee of his party, and much of the money given to the County Committee of San Francisco was wasted. If Frank Newlands had consented to put up the money asked Buckley's men would have left Hearst, and they did actually make a combine for that purpose, but Newlands said: "There is nothing in the place for me but the honor, and that would not exist if I got the place dishonorably."

MILITARY CHANGES.

Important Assignments of Officers in Command

Of the Several Departments—Abolition of the Three Divisions—Reasons for the Change.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Secretary Proctor today signed an order abolishing the three great military divisions of the United States. These were the Atlantic, Pacific and Missouri, commanded respectively by Generals Howard, Ruger and Miles. By today's order, the departments remain intact, and the purpose is to make the department commanders report directly to Major General Schofield, commanding the army, and the Secretary of War, instead of as heretofore, report ng to their division commanders. One of the features of the orders is the assignment of General Kautz to command the Department of the Columbia, which he earnestly desired to command, as it was there his first military service was rendered and where he wishes to retire next year. Major-General Howard is assigned to command the Department of the East, with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York Harbor. Major-General Miles is assigned to command the Department of the Missouri, which embraces the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas and Oklahoma and Indian Territories, with headquarters at Chicago. Brigadier General Brooks is assigned to command the Department of the Platte, with headquarters at Omaha, Neb., and the state of Colorado is added to that department. Brigadier-General Merritt is assigned to command the department of Dakota, with headquarters at St. Paul. Brigadier-General Stanley is assigned to command the department of Texas, with headquarters at San Antonio, Texas. Brigadier-General Ruger is assigned to command the department of California, with headquarters at Los Angeles, California.

OUR WINE EXPORT.

A Large Increase for the Fiscal Year Now Ended.

The Value of the California Wine Exported Was Increased by $300,000 for the Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The Pacific Wine and Spirit Review gives statistics showing the exports of California wines and brandies during the first six months of the year. Five thousand eight hundred and sixty cases or two million four hundred and thirty-one thousand gallons of wine of the total value of $1,173,000 were shipped by sea to New York and to foreign countries, as against 4,754 cases or 2,011,000 gallons of the value of $873,000 in 1890. The brandy exports aggregated 260 cases, or 103,000 gallons, of the value of $78,000, as against an exportation of 75,000 gallons for the year ending June 30, 1890.

THE SNOB.

Some Modern Varieties of the Species.

SOME OF THE CONFESSIONS OF A TOADY.

A Curious Story About James Russell Lowell—American Heraldry—An Elite Directory.

WRITTEN FOR "THE TRIBUNE."

An Englishman who accompanied Stanley, Hamilton Aide, has felt the usual impulse to write his raw impressions about America, and on the whole has done it fairly enough, although here and there the inbred snobbery of the Britisher will crop out. Seen through his English spectacles Mr. Aide divides us into "upper circles" and "lower orders," a queer reminiscence of the language of the late Jeames de la Pluche, Thackeray's illustrious flunkey, who was wont to speak with so much unction of the "hupper suckles." Mr. Aide has discovered the American nobleman. To be sure he exists—this extraordinary nobleman, but his nobility is purely in his mind. He is offensive enough in his self-assertion, but thank God so long as that peculiar institution, the American hired girl, exists he is made to get off his high horse and admit himself a common mortal. It is this feature of our social life which strikes Mr. Aide as peculiarly monstrous. It is, he says, "a problem which no man can understand," and he continues: "A lady said to me, 'One does not think of asking for a servant's character here; she asks for yours. The first year I came I could get no one * * * they knew nothing about me. This year they have been kinder.' She then went on to tell me that a parlor-maid living on a ranch had come to her mistress (who told my informant the story) when some visitors were expected, and stipulated that she should be presented to them—or she would depart. It was Hobson's choice, and the presentation was duly made. In another family the advent of the cook was thus announced in one of the papers: Miss Sally Dexter has arrived from Denver on a visit to Mr. —— in this city."

Nevertheless had Mr. Aide been here a little longer he might have found a closer relation in the ways of thought of the kitchen and of the indigenous aristocracy. It is not long since Ward McAllister presented to an astonished public a picture of himself peeking from the backstairs of Windsor Castle by the courtesy of the cook at the Majesty of England on its way to dinner. For a nobleman the confession is extraordinary. "I have seen," he writes with manifest pride, "Her Majesty's table at Windsor Castle all ready for her. I have heard her footmen in green and gold re-echo from hall to kitchen the note that 'dinner is served'—and then I was told to go." And he proceeds to relate how he invited the cook to dine with him at the inn at which he was staying, and this happy evening, no doubt, appears to have supplied his store of knowledge of court etiquette, which he retails so plentifully for the benefit of the American public. But he never got nearer than the cook.

Have you ever read "The Confessions of a Toady?" There are passages in it which might readily be mistaken for extracts from McAllister's book. He might have written:

"The chief requisites for social success in these days—and I speak from personal experience—are wealth, assurance, persistency and pachydermatousness; and indeed, thanks to a valuable supply of these valuable qualities, I have succeeded in securing a position in society. * * * At first the supercilious cavility, and even not infrequent brutal intolerance, I encountered occasionally disturbed me. But so ardent and engrained is my worship of rank that nothing could possibly ever effectually discourage me from its pursuit. How providential it is that we are not all born equal, since I should then have had no class to idolize, and no class to despise; * * * * and thus from a philosophical aspect is the most perplexing side of my monomania. For in proportion to my devotion for the aristocracy, so is my unconcealed contempt for all, either in or beneath that comparatively humble sphere from which I myself originate."

Parallel passages may be found in plenty in McAllister's book. "If you want to be fashionable," he declares, he always in the company of fashionable people. If you see a fossil of a man shabbily dressed, relying solely on his pedigree, dating back to time immemorial, who has the aspirations of a Duke and the fortunes of a footman, it is better to cross the street and avoid meeting him."

This is the sort of aristocracy that "opens wine," and here again we have the standard of the servants' hall, which was illustrated by a gentleman of color, a waiter at a fashionable restaurant, where a party who had been dining were endeavoring to sing, but, as there were no resonant voices in the crowd and very little knowledge of music, the vocal efforts were a dismal failure. A gentleman who was sitting at the other end of the dining room eating his supper remarked to the waiter at his elbow:

"The gentlemen are trying to be merry."

"Yes, sah," said the waiter, contemptuously tossing his head, "dey's trying to be merry, but dey don't make much noise. Dey's only had a little sautè'ne and cla'et."

A very curious story is told about James Russell Lowell and his son-in-law, Edward Burnett, who when he was elected to Congress was snob enough to tell the compiler of the Congressional directory to be sure to put in that he was "son-in-law to James Russell Lowell. This Burnett was the son of a doctor who made a large fortune selling pills. When the old man got rich his family thought the name would have a more aristocratic appearance were a final e added, and so they insisted that it be spelled Burnette. At that time Lowell's brother, Dr. Robert Traill Spence Lowell was headmaster of the boys' school at Southboro, Mass., where the Burnetts resided, and their innocent attempt at bogus aristocracy so highly amused the good doctor that when he wrote a novel, as he subsequently did, he seized upon the opportunity to satirize the pill merchant's family. He wanted to rap the Burnetts anyway in return for some criticism made by them as to his management of the school. So in his novel, which he called "Antony Brade," he drew a character called "Dr. Buttonn," which everybody knew was patterned after Dr. Burnett, and the author confidentially informed the reader that Buttonn's name was really Button, but Button's children had insisted upon changing the name so as to give it a more aristocratic ring. But the satire gave so much offense to James Russell Lowell that he has never spoken to his brother since.

Most people have a sort of vague idea that there is some business done in manufacturing bogus "coat armor," or armorial bearings for wealthy parvennes, in this country, but few have any idea how extensive it is. You have probably never seen that elaborate and sumptuous work entitled "America Heraldica," by E. de V. Vermont, in which the four hundred and odd armorial bearings of American families are no doubt authentic. Mr. Vermont expatiates with grotesque solemnity on the importance of hereditary social aristocracy even in a democratic country. Let there be equality before the law, of course, but in social life, no; there we must have "imperious classification." The danger in the use of coats of arms is not of discrediting republican institutions. It is of falsifying family history by the assumption of such badges of gentility by the nouveaux riches and other objectionable persons. It is a melancholy fact that in America "thousands of armorial devices are used without a twinge of conscience by families with absolutely no right to bear any coat of arms, and knowing the fact to be such." There are heraldry-shops at which anybody can be grafted upon any desired family tree, and furnished with a scutcheon, crest, motto, and all complete, even though his emigrant forefather may have been of humble, may, of menial origin. In the old countries there are Heralds' Offices, and similar institutions armed with authority to punish any wrongful assumption of coat armor. In our country, public opinion "as yet but imperfectly enlightened on the subject," is perhaps not ready for this judicious remedy; and it only remains therefore for "impartial, studious and high-minded experts" to pass judgment upon the bogus gentlefolks by exhibiting "under the glaring and unrelenting light of public opinion," a list of the true first families, in which these rushing intruders will not be found. Fortunately, while we are waiting for public opinion to become sufficiently enlightened to clamor for the establishment of a Herald's Office with penal jurisdiction, we have one of those impartial, studious and high-minded experts to whom, as Mr. Vermont says, we must look as the savior of society. Need I add that in this description Mr. Vermont refers to himself.

We are all familiar with the elite directories in which the names of the fashionable are enshrined, but not everybody has heard of the startling but business-like innovation introduced in one of these by a certain Dr. Colby, the editor of a summer resort newspaper, who proposed to get out a blue book of the sojourning 400. That was all right and a proper form of homage, they thought, until they heard that the doctor had introduced a feature by which the financial ratings of the several hundred members of the social swim were to be affixed to their names, somewhat after the manner of Bradstreet's. A man or woman's money possessions were not to be designated by so many figures, but by means of a number of mysterious stars, daggers, asterisks, etc., with an explanatory index in the appendix. Proof-sheets were sent through the mails to the persons concerned, with a request for corrections if necessary, and a polite reminder that copies of the blue book were to be had at $2 each, only by subscribers. Society was outraged at the idea of having private fortunes thus scandalously flaunted in the face of the public and indignation meetings were in order. But at last accounts the doctor was going ahead in spite of all the indignation and the protests, and was collecting his little old $2 a head from the local aristocracy by way of a new reading of the old maxim: Noblesse oblige.

I believe that it is in "Nicholas Nickelby" that the barber had to draw the line somewhere, and he drew it at coalheavers, and the place in which this line is drawn in some of our village societies is sometimes puzzling enough to one not in sympathy with the spirit of caste. In one of these places a visitor was shown around by a resident. At the corner of two wooded lanes was the foundation of a house. It was a stone foundation; but grass had begun to cover it, and it looked as if it were never to serve its intended purpose. Next to it stood a pretty cottage. "A barber lives in that house," remarked the resident, pointing to the cottage.

"He evidently made it pay," was my friend's comment.

"And the man who was going to build there," continued the resident, pointing to the abandoned foundation, "gave it up as soon as he heard that the barber had bought the lot next to him and was going to build there."

"And what is the business of the great man who couldn't bear the thought of living next door to a barber?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, he's a lumber dealer."

A PORTLAND FIRE

Which Destroyed Property Valued at $40,000 Today.

PORTLAND, July 3.—Early this morning a fire occurred in a three-story brick block and a two-story frame building on the corner of Clay and Front streets. The frame building was occupied by the foundry of Honeyman & Co., and was totally consumed. The brick block contained Johnson & Lehman's flour and feed mill and E. E. Henry's mattress factory. It was only partially destroyed. The total loss is about $40,000. The principal losers are the Honeyman Foundry Company, loss, $24,000; insurance, $8,000; Johnson & Lehman, loss, $5000; insurance, $2000; E. E. Henry, $10,000; insurance, $4000. Other small losses aggregate about $30,000. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin.

OFF FOR BERING.

The Marion Departs for the Seal Islands of the North.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The United States Steamship Marion, Commander Bartlett, left here today for Bering sea. The vessel will stop at Port Townsend and take on board the United States Commissioners.

During the sealing seasons she will rendezvous in the vicinity of the Pribyloff islands and in September will go to the China station without returning here.

A Passenger Train Telescoped by a Freight.

The Roll of the Dead and Other Sufferers.

A Vivid Description of the Manner of the Accident.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 3.—Nineteen passengers were killed and burned to a cinder at 3 o'clock this morning by a freight train telescoping a passenger train on the Erie Railroad, at Ravenna, O., forty miles west of here. Thirty-eight or forty were injured. The passenger train was standing at the depot when the freight train struck it. Two sleeping cars and the day coach took fire and were entirely destroyed. The train was bound for New York, and was heavily laden with passengers going to spend the Fourth with friends. A special train was sent from here with surgeons and a nurse to care for the wounded. The fire spread so rapidly that it was impossible to rescue many of the injured and they were cremated in the wreck. The accident in loss of life and property was the most extensive ever suffered by the Erie railroad. The day coach contained a party of people from Findlay, coming here to spend the Fourth.

THE LINE WAS FLAGGED.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The following dispatches were received at the Erie Railroad office in this city from Cleveland: "A freight train ran into the rear of No. 8 at Ravenna station at 2:32 o'clock this morning. The engineer of No. 8 was doing some work on his engine. He had been standing still about eight minutes. He had a flag out thirty-five car lengths on a straight line. The engine and two sleepers burned up. As near as I can learn at the present time there were seven killed and about ten injured.

"General Manager."

BURNED IN THEIR BEDS.

PITTSBURG, July 3.—A special from Alliance, O., gives the following account of the Ravenna wreck: The day coach on the rear of the train was completely telescoped and nineteen passengers killed and thirty-eight badly injured. The day coach and two sleepers forward took fire and burned up. Many bodies were burned and are almost unrecognizable. Many passengers on the train were asleep when the awful crash came and a number were crushed to death in their berths. A terrible scene followed. There were cries for help from all parts of the train, mingled with the dying moans of others whose lives were being crushed out. The steam was escaping from the freight engine, and soon the wreck caught fire and crowded upon those who were held fast in the debris.

ROASTED IN A SLOW FIRE.

The few persons who escaped without injury worked with almost superhuman power in their efforts to rescue the more unfortunate ones. In several instances persons slowly burned to death while pleading with their last breath for help which could not be rendered. The wreck was most complete. The cars were piled upon and across each other almost in a solid mass. Thus the small party rescued worked at a disadvantage. As rapidly as the injured were rescued they were conveyed to the station, where physicians from Ravenna and other near points rendered all the assistance possible. The fire was finally extinguished, but not until several persons had perished. In a couple of hours the company had responded, and relief trains, with a corps of physicians and nurses, arrived from Cleveland and other points, and the injured were given every attention.

DISFIGURED CORPSES.

Those able to be removed were sent to Cleveland and placed in the hospital there. The dead were removed to the rooms of the undertakers in Ravenna, where they will await identification. Some are so badly burned and disfigured that it will be a very difficult task to identify them. The Coroner will begin an inquest this afternoon. The company officials now here will render all the assistance possible and will make a most complete investigation. It would appear that the whole accident was due to the carelessness in some one in leaving the switch open. The heavy freight train was running at the rate of forty miles an hour and struck the passenger train with full force.

It is rumored that three members of the Pittsburg baseball team were killed in the wreck, but this is not believed as they play another game in Cincinnati today.

CREMATED WITHOUT HOPE OF RESCUE.

CLEVELAND, July 3.—A special from Youngstown, O., says at Ravenna the worst railroad wreck which has happened in the Western reserve, excepting the Ashtabula horror, occurred this morning, resulting in the death of twenty-five people and seriously if not fatally injuring at least six more. Fire added its terrors to other already frightful scenes and the bruised and charred remains of the victims were badly burned, while one poor woman, pinioned in the wreckage, was cremated before the eyes of the spectators who were working to secure her release, until driven off by the flames.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The east-bound Erie vestibule train No. 8 due at Youngstown at 2:55 A.M., was very late and was running on orders. When a stop was made at Ravenna the engineer and fireman of the passenger train went to work to repair the engine, and the train was again detained several minutes. A flagman was sent back, but went on a few feet—at most but two car-lengths. Suddenly around the curve west of the city came train No. 82, composed of Swift's meat cars. The train was running twenty-five miles an hour and coming down a heavy grade. The engineer supposed he had a clear track, and if being a through train he was not expected to stop at Ravenna. He called for brakes and reversed his engine, but all to no purpose. On came the freight train with but slightly decreased speed, and no word of warning could be given the people in the doomed train. A few feet west of the station the engineer and fireman jumped, alighting safely. A moment after there was a silence of death, and then commenced the most frightful cries ever heard. The moans of the dying, piteous cries for help came from the imprisoned and helpless passengers, and the mutilated and bloody remains of the dead were seen through the fragments. The debris formed a scene of horror no pen can picture.

KNOCKED TO SPLINTERS.

The freight engine had gone clear through the day coach in the rear, through the sleeper, and had buried itself in the second sleeper, the third car of the train. There was nothing left of the rear of the train but a mass of debris, and the sides of the third car stood about the monster engine, as if to hold it prisoner and prevent other damage. The scene lasted but a moment, when the tongues of flame sprung up here and there and soon the whole wreck was burning. It was a sickening sight, with two score of imprisoned passengers in the debris. The flames lighting up the surrounding with a lurid glare served only to intensify the horror. As soon as the dazed passengers in the other cars recovered themselves they rushed to rescue their unfortunate companions. The Fire Department was immediately telephoned for, and every one in that end of the little city rushed to the scene of the disaster. Hundreds soon surrounded the wreck, but to little purpose. The awful ruin had been wrought and little was left to do but to secure and care for the remains of the dead. A few passengers easily reached were promptly rescued, and several bodies of the dead and dying were carried to the depot platform.

A PITEOUS SIGHT.

One poor woman was seen pinioned in the wreck, though apparently but slightly hurt, whose appeals for help will never be forgotten by the spectators. The flames had not reached her, but were slowly eating their way toward her. Strong and willing hands swung axes as they were never swung before. It was a battle between life and death. As the heat became more and more intense, the men who were no longer able to withstand the flames gave place to others with the rapidity of lightning, but it was a useless fight. The choppers had to fall back and abandon the woman to her fate. In a moment the flames caught her dress and instantly leaped to her head. Her piteous cries of "Save me! save me!" as the flames enveloped her form, and the expression of agony on her face as she sank down in the debris caused the stoutest hearts to grow sick with horror. How many more such frightful tragedies, though unseen, were enacted within the burning ruins in those brief moments will never be known.

WHAT A TRAMP SAID.

The remains of the dead were carried to the depot, and from there they were taken to the improvised morgue. They presented a ghastly sight, though not nearly so badly mutilated as might have been expected from the nature of the accident. Some of them were already identified, and it is believed that all the others can be as soon as their friends arrive. By 9:15 o'clock the wreckers had the tracks clear and trains were able to pass. A tramp who was stealing a ride on the rear of the train, said to a reporter that the flagman did not go back over half a car length and that there was no time for the engineer to stop his train. He was arrested and held as a witness. There is a stretch of straight track west of the depot at least half a mile in length, but the grade is very heavy and it is very difficult to stop a train.

WHERE THE VICTIMS CAME FROM.

CINCINNATI, July 3.—The Ravenna wreck evidently caught Findlay and Cincinnati people exclusively. The Chicago vestibule train was met at Marion Junction by a through New York sleeper from Cincinnati, where the latter was attached to the rear of the train. Last night there was such an unusual number of passengers from here that two sleepers instead of one were attached. These evidently were the two cars reported destroyed in the wreck. The day coach, which was in the rear, and which was going from Findlay to Youngstown, would naturally be placed in the rear of the Cincinnati sleepers, and as a special car, would not be sent out with less than fifty passengers. The probability is that the casualties may all be limited to that car. Telegrams have been received here from Cincinnati people who were in one of the sleepers saying they had escaped.

THE ROLL OF THE DEAD.

PITTSBURG, July 3.—A Ravenna, Ohio, special gives the following list of the dead and injured. The dead are:

DAVID RELIHAN,
F. BUFF,
A. DUNTHORP,
W. KANE,
F. BURNS,
J. KIMBALL,
J. DEMEEN,
J. COYLE,
O. HARDING,
D. RYAN,
D. CASSIDAY,
W. NEWCOMBE,
P. NOLAN, and a nurse unknown.
J. GRIFFIN, Cleveland.

The additional list of the killed is:
PATRICK RYAN,
HENRY GILDAE,
TOM KEENIL,
LEW LAWRENCE
They were all of Corning, N. Y.

All of these were taken out of the wreck dead and all but three were burned to a crisp.

Thomas Colville was taken out of the wreck alive. He was terribly crushed and burned and his sufferings were awful. In an agonizing voice he called to a friend: "Billy, for God's sake get an axe and kill me."

He died soon after.

Henry Gilden was badly injured and died soon after being taken to the hotel.

Among the injured were George Smith, John Cowden, H. C. Degraff, James McGill, John Keating, Jonah Clark and A. P. Jones. Their injuries consisted principally of broken limbs and none are believed to be fatally hurt.

Thomas Hanley and Joseph Morgan, two others, are in a serious condition and it is feared will not recover. The dead and injured were employed in the Richardson Glass Works at Findlay, O., which shut down yesterday for the summer, and they were on their way to Corning, N. Y., their home. They were all on an extra car attached to the train, and the only one known to have been killed on the sleeper was a nurse.

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE ENGINEER.

BOSTON, July 3.—A Ravenna special says: It is feared that twenty people were killed in the Erie wreck there. George Heilman, the engineer of the freight train in an interview said he did not see how he could be blamed. He further said: "I could have stopped my train but the rails were wet and the sand would not take. I was not warned in time, and I could not see lights on the rear of the passenger train owing to the darkness and fog. I reversed the lever as quickly as possible, and with the fireman jumped from the train, sustaining a severe fracture of my right hand." Heilman seems to think that the brakeman of the passenger train, Fred Boynton, could have flagged him from a greater distance.

CINCINNATI, July 3.—A telephone message from the manager of the Pittsburg Baseball Club states that Galvin, Miller and King of that club were not on the wrecked train. They are still in this city.

GENERAL MILES ON THE TRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 3.—General Miles and Captain Huggins, his chief of staff, were on the train wrecked at Ravenna this morning, on their way to Buffalo, where a reunion of the Army of the Potomac is being held to-day. A dispatch received from them stated that neither of them were injured. Other Chicago people were on the train but all escaped injury.

A CHANGE OF FLAG.

The "Esmeralda" Meant to Sieze Certain Vessels

Of the South American Steamship Company Carrying the Chilean Flag. Defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The steamer City of New York arrived this morning from Panama, bringing advices that the South American Steamship Company, after the Peita episode, resolved to change its flag and adopted the English ensign instead of the Chilean standard, which was previously used. One of the passengers on the City of New York reports that in conversation with officers of the insurgent cruiser Esmeralda in the harbor of Panama on June 11th the latter stated that it was the intention of the Esmeralda to sieze the South American Company's steamer, Laja, which was then in harbor, bound for Callao, with the Italian Minister to Peru and the British Consul on board, when attention was called to the fact that the Laja was flying the British flag. The officer in question replied that it did not matter, and that her proper standard was the Chilean flag, and that the Esmeralda would overhaul her at sea and take her in Iquique, as she was needed by the insurgents for a transport vessel. The passengers, he said, would be protected and sent to Callao. Nothing has since been heard regarding their movements.

YACHTS IN DANGER.

Nineteen of the Detroit Fleet are Missing.

DETROIT, July 3.—The Detroit Yacht Club fleet of twenty-six yachts left here last night to take part in the regatta to-day at New Baltimore, Mich. The fleet was caught in a heavy windstorm on Lake St. Claire and so far only seven boats have reached their destination. Much anxiety is felt for the safety of nineteen boats and their crews.

CHICAGO, July 3.—A private dispatch from Detroit says that the missing yachts on Lake St. Clair have all been accounted for, and that their passengers are safe.

RUSSIAN RYE.

The Crop is Short—Prorogation of Parliament.

LONDON, July 3.—The Russian rye crop will be bad and there will be no surplus for export. Large German orders have been sent to the United States and Canada. It is reported that Russia is also buying supplies in America.

William Henry Smith announces that it is the intention of the Government to finish the present session of Parliament at the end of the month.

MAY SUMMON WITNESSES.

The Philadelphia Council Examining the Bardsley Frauds.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—The Presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas this morning handed down a decision upholding the authority of the City Council to appoint a committee vested with powers to subpœna witnesses and place them under oath before receiving their testimony. The decision of the court arose through a suit in equity brought against Yard, who refused to be sworn or to testify before the Keystone Bank Investigating Committee. Yard had been indicted by the Grand Jury for criminal conspiracy with ex-City Treasurer Bardsley to unlawfully use the public funds.

LOGAN'S MURDERER

Dies in Jail of Consumption While Under Sentence of Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Charles E. Clark, the murderer of Captain Duncan Logan of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, who sought to protect an old Frenchman whom Clark attempted to rob on the night of September 10, 1889, died in the County Jail this morning, it is stated, from consumption. Clark had been sentenced to be hanged but had appealed to the Supreme Court.

A FARMERS' DUEL

In Which Both Combatants Were Killed.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 3.—Yesterday afternoon George Jones and William Newton, two well known farmers of East Tennessee, fought a duel on the State line over a piece of property. Both were killed, being shot to death.

BREEDING A FAMINE.

Big Swarms of Locusts in Northern India.

CALCUTTA, July 3.—The weather improved during the week, but more rain is needed everywhere except in Burmah and Assam.

T. Barnette, on behalf of the people of Haywards, asked whether the road was to run directly to that town or by way of San Lorenzo. He said that the agreement, as published in THE TRIBUNE, was only to build the road as far as San Leandro, and he had heard much talk that it was the intention to make a sort of loop, taking in San Lorenzo and the Meek ranch and leaving Haywards to one side as the steam railroad had done. He said a meeting had been held at his house the night before, and he was sure that if the projectors of the road would agree to build directly to Haywards $10,000 could be raised in that town at once. He himself would give $500, or even $1000. Ten thousand dollars more could be obtained by agreeing to build one mile farther into Castro valley.

Mr. Landers replied that if $10,000 was raised in Haywards the company would agree to build a direct line into that town. It had thought that possibly more people might be brought to Oakland by building by way of San Lorenzo. The bonus desired from the people of San Leandro and the country lying between that town and Oakland had been obtained to all intents and purposes, but between San Leandro and Haywards it has not yet been obtained, so the agreement published merely pledged the company to build to San Leandro. Its intention, however, was to build to Haywards.

C. Nordhausen asked for further information in regard to the transfers from East Oakland, and Mr. Landers explained again that the transfers were intended to be merely temporary. In dealing with the board the company desired to understate matters rather than to overstate them, so it cannot agree to build a road where it has no franchise to build one. In its application to the Council it must change its route to reach Broadway. When it applied before it was compelled to wait six or seven months before the Council acted. Now it must begin work within sixty days and complete the roadway from Thirteenth avenue to the eastern city limits within six months from that time or lose its franchise, so another delay of six or seven months would be fatal. So the company could not promise to build to Broadway before the completion of the other portion of its road. They expected, however, to obtain a franchise to Broadway long before the completion of the road. The application for a franchise had not been amended because of negotiations with the Sessions-Vandercook Company looking to a sharing in the cost of construction of the road on Eighth street and the running of the cars of both lines to the corner of Eighth street and Broadway. District Attorney Reed, who is the company's attorney, and ex-Mayor W. R. Davis, attorney for the Sessions-Vandercook road, had held many consultations over the matter. There still remains a legal question. The statutes provide that franchises to two different roads shall not be granted for more than five blocks along the same street. Now the question is, can the two companies agree to do what the State law prohibits the Council from doing?

Sol Kahn asked whether the Sessions road would agree to give free transfer.

Mr. Landers could not give a definite assurance in this matter. However, the passengers from Haywards could transfer to the steam cars at East Oakland, and thus reach Oakland for no additional expense. In any event, the company had pledged itself to cheapen the cost of reaching Oakland from San Leandro and Haywards, and even if an extra fare is charged the total will not be as much as at present.

Mr. Kahn said that if assurances could be given that the incoming people could get from East Oakland to Broadway without inconvenience, there would be no trouble in raising the $10,000 bonus. He feared, however, that the Southern Pacific and Sessions lines might try to make it disagreeable for the people brought in by the Haywards road.

As S. P. Boyce, of Harrison & Boyce, entertained similar fears, Mr. Landers said that before his company's road could be built there would be four different ways of getting from East Oakland to Broadway. Two of these exist now—the local steam road and the Tubbs Hotel line. Two electric roads are about to be built—the Sessions road and the cross-town road of the Oakland and Berkeley Rapid Transit Company people. These two franchises antedate the franchise of the Haywards road, so the roads will be constructed first. With these four means of reaching Oakland Mr. Landers felt sure in saying that the travelers on his company's road could reach Broadway without extra cost.

In reply to Dr. Barnette, Secretary Stone said that $3345 had been subscribed in Haywards up to about a week ago. To this the doctor replied that if such were the case and the company would pledge itself to build its road directly into Haywards the $10,000 asked for was already as good as secured, as the gentlemen who met at his house would make up the balance.

Adolph Braenn wished to know what time would be made on the road. Mr. Stone said that it was the company's intention to make the round trip to Haywards and return in two hours, including stoppages. The cars can run eighteen miles an hour.

In reply to Mr. Boyce, Mr. Stone said the company expects to complete its roadbed before the end of this year.

"It is just as important to our interests to get to Broadway as it is to the interest of the merchants to get us there," said Mr. Stone. "We can get over the Eighth-street bridge all right. Then we can come to Broadway on Tenth or Eleventh street. A franchise on Ninth street has already been denied. But we cannot delay the commencement of work until that franchise is obtained. We have wasted too much time already."

"What fare will you charge?" asked Mr. Braenn.

"We have always talked of 25 or 30 cents from Haywards," replied Mr. Landers. "The present railroad fare is 40 cents, and we are pledged to reduce that."

Mr. Landers told Mr. Keller that, though the subscriptions from the property owners between Oakland and San Leandro were not quite up to expectations, they were very satisfactory. If the subscriptions for the road from San Leandro to Haywards were as good, the road would be built at once.

Mr. Kirkland asked if the company would pledge itself to use its best efforts to obtain a franchise from East Oakland to Broadway and then build the road.

To this Mr. Landers said "Certainly."

"Will you put that condition in your subscription lists?" asked Mr. Keller.

"If you think that a favorable condition we will do so," was Mr. Landers's reply.

Mr. Kahn then said he was entirely satisfied with the explanations and expositions given. To bring the people to Thirteenth avenue he considered far better than not bringing them to Oakland at all. He then offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Oakland Board of Trade recognize that the construction of an electric railway between Oakland and Haywards is of the greatest advantage to the business houses and people generally, and is certain to largely increase business of all kinds in Oakland; be it

Resolved, That we, as individuals, and also as members of the Board of Trade, do heartily indorse the proposition of the Oakland, San Leandro and Haywards Electric Railway Company to build said railway. We also recommend to the citizens of Oakland that the amount proposed to be raised by way of subsidy or bonus is reasonable and should be promptly subscribed.

To this Mr. Boyce prepared and offered the following addition:

The Board of Trade of the city of Oakland further recommends that the said road be extended to Broadway, provided the franchise can be obtained, and this board will give its moral support to that end.

Then on motion of Mr. Kahn, seconded by Mr. Kirkland, the resolution and addition were adopted by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Kahn said that the resolution did not bind the board to raise the bonus, but simply gave the proposition its moral support. However, he felt certain that when the subscription lists are circulated every business man will contribute what he feels he can afford to give.

Mr. Kirkland then moved that the president of the board appoint a committee of three, consisting of himself and two members, to aid the company's representatives in canvassing for subscriptions. The motion was adopted, and at the suggestion of F. R. Girard President Keller was given until today to announce his appointments.

Then an adjournment was taken.

President Keller stated this afternoon that he had not yet appointed the other members of the Subscription Committee, as he wishes to consult with members of the board and with the company so as to secure the most active and most satisfactory men. He desires, also, to get some definite pledge in regard to building the road to Broadway. He favors a route on Tenth street westerly to Washington.

Secretary Stone says the company will give any desired assurance in the matter, though in the subscription agreement they do not wish to insert anything which might invalidate it.

ONE WAY TO MAKE A RECORD.

Official Description of the Visit of the President to Oakland.

"He Expressed Great Regrets at the Miscarriage of the Programme, but It Was Not His Fault."

A semi-official itinerary of the trip of President Benjamin Harrison through the South and West has been issued in book form by the New York Mail and Express. A brief description of the reception of the President at each place he visited and the complete text of every speech of the 142 speeches he made during his trip is given. The reports of the speeches show the genius of the President for arranging words in graceful and sonorous sentences, and the account of the John Gilpin ride through Oakland shows the genius of the compiler in making the record distort the facts. Here is the official account of the President's trip to Oakland:

It was a long drive from the time the President left the train until he reached Oakland. Great preparations were made at this place for the President, but owing to the neglect or oversight of the Chief of Police and his corps the crowd became unmanageable, and the President's carriage was stopped four blocks from the stand erected for him to speak from. He waited over a quarter of an hour for a way to be made for him to reach the stand, but it was impossible. He then arose in his carriage and addressed the crowd as follows:

Mr. Mayor and Fellow Citizens: I regret that your enthusiasm and the vast size of this assembly have somewhat disconcerted the programme marked out, but I can speak as well from here as from the stand, which seems to be inaccessible. I return my sincere thanks for your welcome, and express the interest and gratification I have felt this morning in riding through some of the streets of your beautiful city. I thank you most sincerely for your friendliness and bid you good-bye.

It was impossible for the President to wait any longer, as he had to meet engagements in San Francisco, so he was driven at once to the ferry. The President expressed great regret at the miscarriage of the programme, but it was not his fault that the arrangements were not perfect. He did all he could, after a most fatiguing day, to carry out the arrangements of the local committee, but it was their fault that the programme was interfered with by the by the enthusiasm and size of the crowd.

ALAMEDA.

The Restaurateur Whose Business Is Ruined.

It is in violation of a city ordinance to discharge fireworks of any kind in the district bounded by Encinal and Pacific avenues and Oak and Everett streets, and for the space of 200 feet on either side of Webster street, from Central to Pacific avenues.

Harry Taylor was arrested today for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk. The complaint was sworn to by Hackett, a Deputy Constable under Cramer, and there is evidence to show that Hackett was prompted by spite-work. He did not serve the warrant himself because there were no fees in it for him. Taylor was at a wedding last evening and Hackett urged the police officer who was given the warrant to serve to go to the wedding and arrest Taylor in the presence of the other guests. The officer declined to do so. Taylor pleaded not guilty this morning, and will test the constitutionality of the ordinance under which he was arrested. The ordinance makes no exception for a person riding on the walk to his own premises, and Mr. Taylor has consulted attorneys and thinks he can knock the ordinance out.

A set of swinging harness was placed in position last evening in the Webster-street engine house by R. J. Beeby of Oakland. A pole has been attached to the chemical engine, taking the place of the shafts, and the two gray horses of the Fire Department have been taught to run into their place when an alarm comes in.

If G. E. Colwell, the attorney for George Voges, does what he says he will there may be some lively times in Alameda. Voges' application for a liquor license was rejected by the City Trustees, and one cause of this rejection was a protest from the residents of the neighborhood where the saloon is. Colwell says that this protest is a species of a boycott, a conspiracy to injure a man in business, which is in violation of the laws of the State, and he intends to bring suit for damages on behalf of Voges against each of the signers of the protest. Voges' place of business is at the corner of Grand street and Railroad avenue and he runs a restaurant in connection with his saloon. His patrons are principally from San Francisco, to whom he serves high-priced dinners, and if he is not allowed to sell liquor his business will be ruined.

E. O. Crosby, a well-known pioneer, has sent out twenty-two invitations to other pioneers living in Alameda to meet at his office on Park street this evening. He is desirous of having the Alameda pioneers form a society for social and other purposes.

There was no quorum present at the meeting of the Alameda Improvement Association last evening, and an adjournment was taken until the first Thursday in August.

Mrs. J. Ernst and daughters, Misses Charlotte and Johanna will leave next Monday for a two weeks' sojourn at Wrights, Santa Cruz Mountains.

TRADES FEDERATION

Rat Printers and Boiler Plate Considered.

AFFILIATION WITH FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

The New Officers of the Painters' Union. The Fight of the Clerks for Early Closing.

Before the Federated Trades was brought last night for consideration the trouble concerning the use of boiler-plate in the Enquirer.

A large number of delegates was present, and President Soule occupied the chair.

A communication was read from the trades union at Tacoma, requesting all building trades to keep away from that city on account of a strike.

The chairman announced the appointment of new committees as follows:

Executive—Messrs. Soule, Finney, Hough, Orr, Wayne, Miles, and Gonen.

Organizing—Messrs. Kaufmann, Cole, Thurman, Hough, Finnigan and Lewis.

The Painters reported work active and plenty to do for all.

A committee from the Typographical Union appeared and reported the trouble now existing in the office of the Oakland Enquirer and after some discussion the matter took the usual course and was referred to the Executive Committee.

The Machine Woodworkers' Union reported three new members since the meeting of last week.

The delegate from the Clerks' Union reported that at their last meeting the new officers had been installed, and the special committee appointed to attend the Farmers' Alliance meeting at Niles on Thursday of this week made a report. A committee from the alliance was present and asked the Federation to form an affiliation with their body, and the matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

The matter of "rat" printers was discussed and the union printers presented their case in a very forcible manner.

Labor Notes.

The Council of Federated Trades of the Pacific Coast has issued a circular calling upon all central labor bodies to federate under one head.

The Shoemakers' League is still irritated over the action of some of the employers. They have tried for a month or two to get the difficulty arbitrated, but have heretofore been unsuccessful. They now propose to leave the matter to the State Board of Arbitration.

The Retail Clerks have recently admitted four new members and have a number of applications to act upon at their next meeting. At the last meeting a committee of three was appointed to draft resolutions asking the Reliance Club to patronize only those stores that close according to agreement.

The Painters have elected the following officers to serve the ensuing term: President, D. Reseigh; vice-president, Carl Mueller; recording secretary, S. Ferris; conductor, John Norton; warden, Otis Manton; trustee, Joe Andrew.

HIS CHILDREN ARE OMITTED.

Louis C. Kohler Leaves All His Property to His Widow.

An Unusual Amount of Ready Cash and Real Property in Alameda in the Estate.

The will of Louis G. Kohler, deceased, has been filed for probate by his widow, Emma Kohler, who is named as executrix, to act without bonds. The estate is valued at $16,000, and consists of real estate in Alameda and cash in bank amounting to $12,066. The testator bequeaths all of his property to his wife. In his will he says: "I intentionally fail and omit to make any provision whatever in this my will for my seven children or either or any of them, or for any child or children that may be hereafter born unto me, it being my will that they shall not nor shall any or either of them take any portion of my estate."

WANTS HIS MONEY BACK.

O. C. Logan Says That C. H. Miller Cannot Keep His Contract.

Some time ago R. W. Snow deeded to C. H. Miller three acres of land in Highland park, near California College. Last January Miller contracted to sell the property to O. C. Logan for $1600 an acre. Logan paid Miller $525 under the contract to purchase, and when it came time to deliver the deed Miller could not give a clear title to the property. That's what Mr. Logan says, so he has sued Miller to recover $525 and interest and to rescind the contract.

THE CHURCH IN EARLY DAYS.

Dr. Akerly's Report on "the Social Evil of Sunday Visiting."

The Venerable Rector Used to Drive to San Leandro to Preach, and Would Fall Asleep From Fatigue.

The Rev. Dr. H. D. Lathrop, rector of the Church of the Advent, East Oakland, contributes to the July number of the Pacific Churchman an interesting article upon the church in California in early days. He mentions that in 1853 the Rev. Giles A. Easton, now rector of St. Mark's Church, Berkeley, had become a minister in Grace Church. Mr. Easton has never since left California.

Dr. Lathrop quotes the following from the report on Oakland of the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Akerly, then and now rector of St. John's Church:

"Attendance upon the public Common Prayers of the church is very irregular, yet not so much so as in former years. The social evil of Sunday visiting is beginning to correct itself as an annoyance too many too intolerable to be borne." Dr. Akerly also reports that "on May 25, 1852, he commenced celebrating Divine worship in the courtroom at San Leandro, and continued the services every evening at 7:30 o'clock till September 14th. "There are but two church families at this place and three communicants. The number in attendance varied from ten to forty, according to the state of the atmosphere. The shortness of the days of autumn; the darkness and dreariness of the return journey; falling asleep while driving, made it a point of wisdom to discontinue this third service."

At the convention of 1891, twenty-eight years later, Christ Church Mission elects delegates and is admitted into union with the convention.

To Drink the Water.

F. L. Bates of the Street Superintendent's office has gone on a vacation to the Soda Springs.

A PASTOR TO ARRIVE.

Rev. F. B. March Will Be in Oakland Tomorrow.

Rev. Frank Bell March, the young minister who has been appointed by the Board of Home Missions of the United Presbyterian Church to take charge of the congregation of this city, will arrive with his wife and children tomorrow forenoon. He is 31 years of age and is a native of Ohio. He is a son of the late Rev. Dr. March and a brother of Chauncey March, for ten years a missionary of the United Presbyterian Church in Egypt, and now stationed at Luxor. Rev. F. B. March was ordained in 1887 and has since that time been pastor of Stamford Church, near South Kortright, Delaware county, N. Y. He desired a wide field for work and when the Oakland charge was tendered him he accepted. The congregation of Stamford were entirely satisfied with him and were anxious for him to remain, but as all the people in the vicinity were either members of his own or some other church and there was no chance for active mission work, he decided to accept the call to Oakland and an enlarged field of labor.

At the United Presbyterian services in Young Men's Christian Association, Sunday, Mr. March will be assisted at 11 A. M. by Rev. D. Calhoun. At 7:45 P. M. there will be a praise service, at which addresses will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Calhoun and Rev. Mr. March. The Sabbath school will meet at 10 A. M. and the Young People's Society at 7 P. M.

IN LIEU OF FIRECRACKERS

Children at the Relief Society Home Will Eat Ice Cream.

The Ladies' Relief Society of Oakland held its regular monthly meeting at the Home yesterday at 2 o'clock. The following donations are reported for the month of June: Mrs. R. Brower, box of currants. Mrs. Blake, clothing; Mrs. Huntley, five small dresses, Mrs. Kempff, clothing; James Dunn, box of crackers; Mrs. Jefferson Clarke clothing; Mrs. Lloyd Baldwin, clothing, boots and shoes.

The children of the Home are delighted over the promise of a lawn party and ice cream feast with which they will celebrate the Fourth.

It was deemed advisable to the board to prohibit the use of firecrackers, as their use by the 102 children might prove disastrous to one and another and to the building. The lawn party will be given by Mrs. Gardner, the matron and Miss Smith, the assistant matron. The ladies of the board will furnish the ice-cream.

MR. BARR RESIGNED.

There Will Be a New Instructor at the Christian Association Gymnasium.

E. T. Barr, who has been acting as instructor in the gymnasium of the Young Men's Christian Association for some time, resigned his position on the 1st inst. Mr. Barr was devoting only a portion of his time to the institution, and recently made a request for more money. In considering the matter the directors of the association decided that they could get better service for the same salary they are paying Mr. Barr, so his application was denied.

It has been decided to invite Henry A. Townsend at present an instructor in the Portland, Or., association, to take Mr. Barr's place. Mr. Townsend is a graduate of the Springfield Academy, and has been a general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association. He is a thorough instructor and a medical student, which makes him well fitted for such a position. Mr. Townsend has not yet accepted the call.

FOUR BAD BOYS.

The Youngsters Do Not Appear to Fear the Penitentiary.

Last evening Sheriff Hussey arrested John McCutcheon, aged 11 years, and placed him in the County Jail. He is accused of being one of the number who stole Mr. Aiker's horse, and entered in the scheme to establish a robbers' roost. Hallihan, Crowe and Dolan were arraigned before a Berkeley justice and their bail was fixed at $1000 each. They will be taken into court this afternoon to answer to a charge of grand larceny. McCutcheon has not been given a hearing in court as yet. The boys do not appear to take their imprisonment to heart, and have not the least fear of going to the penitentiary. On the contrary they think they are heroes and have performed great deeds.

Returned With Honors.

Walter Yates, a former resident of this city and a graduate of the High school, who went East five years ago to pursue studies in medicine, returned yesterday with a young wife. He is now a full fledged M. D., having graduated at the Buffalo Medical College. He will establish himself either here or in San Francisco. He is now at the Blake House.

It Lies Idle Now.

As soon as the ordinance, now before Council, appropriating $2200 for the furnishing of the Fifteenth street engine house is passed to print the Board of Public Works will advertise for bids and the fire and fire alarm departments will make arrangements to take possession of their new quarters.

THE TAMALPAIS FIRE.

The San Rafael Water Mains Saved With Difficulty.

Costly Residences in Ross Valley Threatened—The Fire Spreading Toward Bolinas.

SAN RAFAEL, July 3.—The situation on Mount Tamalpais has not changed materially. Last night it was expected the fire would burn the hopper and trestles of the San Rafael water mains, but a gang of twenty men were at that point, and by almost superhuman work succeeded in saving that property. The men backfired the woods on the westerly side of Lagunitas lake, and at present there is no danger of San Rafael losing her water supply. The foremen of the water company felt so confident that no further danger would ensue that he discharged a number of his men this morning. About 9 o'clock this morning the fire again started in the upper end of Ross valley and owing to the strong south wind now blowing it is rapidly encroaching on the residence portion of the valley. Reinforcements have been sent out to battle with the flames there. Should the fire crowd its way to Ross Valley it would no doubt cause great damage to many elegant residences at that place. In the direction of Bolinas a back fire started to save the water company is making rapid strides northward and westward. It is reported that a fire is raging on the stage road to Bolinas and it is not improbable that today's stage from Bolinas will have to make the trip via Sausalito. The fire has been extinguished at Tamalpais but in the Mill valley gulches it is still burning. Reports from Mill valley and vicinity do not express any alarm, as the wind is now blowing from that section and a gang of men are constantly on the alert. It is impossible to say when the fire will be extinguished and many thousands of acres may be burned over before the fire will be completely controlled.

William on His Travels.

AMSTERDAM, July 3.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany started for The Hague this morning. The imperial travelers were accompanied to the railroad station by the Queen and Queen Regent. An enormous crowd of people gathered at the station long before the time fixed for the departure of the German Emperor and Empress, who were warmly cheered.

Died of Yellow Fever.

Q. E. F.

Dietz Gets the Permit for His Sidewalks.

A. C. Dietz has come to time. Now that he is compelled to lay good sidewalks in front of his theater and other property he will do so. It is like giving up some of his heart's blood to bow his head to the edict that compels him to spend a few dollars, but there is no other course open.

Sorrowfully the permit was obtained this afternoon, the request stating that the walks will be of bitumen. The territory that it is announced will be paved is from Thirteenth and Webster along Webster and Twelfth streets to the corner of Harrison and Twelfth streets.

Dietz was a day behind time, but the officials will let him do the work by private contract.

THE PLAINTIFF IS DEAD.

A Decision of the Appeal in the Case of Bull Against Bray.

Watson A. Bray, who was a member of the firm of Bray Brothers in San Francisco who failed some years ago has scored a victory over the man who pursued him. The late Alpheus Bull, who fell over a bluff near Fort Point, San Francisco, and was killed, was a creditor of Mr. Bray. Bull brought an action in this county against Mr. Bray and his wife asking the court to set aside two deeds to land in Contra Costa county, made by Bray to his wife. The Bray ranch in Contra Costa county, containing some 800 acres of land was involved in the suit. Mr. Bull asserted that he is a creditor of Mr. Bray in the sum of $55,030, and he desired to have the deeds declared fraudulent as against him, and asked to have a receiver appointed, and the land sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of his debt. It is asserted in the complaint that at the time the transfer was made to Mrs. Bray, her husband was insolvent, notwithstanding the fact that he had informed Bull that he was a very rich man and had vast resources and could easily meet all his liabilities.

The case was tried before Judge Greene in this county in 1887 and was stubbornly contested by Mr. Bray, who denied any fraud in the matter of the transfer of the property and held that the land was justly and fairly owned by his wife. After elaborate argument by able counsel Judge Greene decided the case in favor of Mr. Bull, and directed counsel to prepare findings in accordance with the decision of the court.

So accordingly findings were prepared and filed of record and to these Mr. Bray found exception on the ground that they did not pass upon the question of fraud, one of the issues involved in the contest. Mr. Bray then appealed to the court for a new trial, setting forth many points of law in his favor. The motion for a new trial was granted and to this order Mr. Bull appealed the case to the Supreme Court.

A few days ago that tribunal affirmed the decision of Judge Greene granting a new trial of the cause and yesterday a remittitur was received by the County Clerk informing him of that fact. Deputy Clerk Sturtevant found that the document did not bear the seal of the Supreme Court, and so today it was returned to Supreme Court Clerk Brown with the advice that the seal be placed thereon in order to make it a legal record.

A Sermon on the National Holiday.

At the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday there will be preaching both morning and evening by Rev. J. H. Malcolm of Chicago. The subject of the morning discourse will be especially appropriate to the national holiday.

A CHURCH PAPER ON DR. DILLE.

His Language Referred to as "a Coarse Attack From the Pulpit."

The Pacific Churchman, the church paper of the Episcopalians, is far and away the most interesting and readable publication of its kind on the coast. The Rev. Charles Miel, formerly of this city, now Rector of Christ Church, Sausalito, is again in charge of the paper, and he makes it brilliant but not sensational. The Pacific Churchman gives expression to liberal views. For instance, it favors opening the World's Fair during half of Sunday, and does not predict the gates of hell are yawning for any one who takes a glass of California wine.

The current issue of the Churchman contains the following editorial article upon Rev. Dr. Dille of this city:

"A reverend prohibitionist of Oakland, whose violent language offers a striking contrast to the self-denial he advocates in other matters, has honored the viticultural commission with one of his choicest diatribes. He does not allow his eloquence to be fettered by any trumpery canons, either of good taste or brotherly love. As, for instance, when he spoke of a well-known literary lady, whose name is above reproach, in a phrase applicable, possibly, to the lowest grades of the Hetairai. In the interests of temperance we protest against this sort of thing. We believe that an agency which has for its object the development of the wine of the country and popularizing its use, is doing good temperance work, if only substituting wholesome drinks for poisonous whisky. But, any way, coarse attacks from the pulpit never result in good results, any more than violent personal abuse is likely to be welcomed as an evidence of real affection."

THE FOURTH WILL BE QUIET.

Everybody Who Can Get Away Will Be Out of the City.

Pleasures Offered at the Beautiful Resorts in the City of Oakland.

The Fourth of July will be a very quiet one in Oakland and in Alameda. At both places the merchants generally will observe the day by closing their places of business, and all the public offices will be closed until Monday morning. There will be no parade or demonstrations of any kind, except a display of fireworks in the evening at the lot on the corner of Seventh and Myrtle streets, and a general din and roar by the small boy, who will be enthusiastic until he burns his fingers.

The various military organizations will march to the train early in the morning and go to San Francisco for parade, after which they will proceed directly to Santa Cruz to their annual encampment.

There are plenty of places for the people to go for amusement tomorrow. Besides Blair Park, Piedmont and the swimming baths there will be a grand gathering and picnic of the Scottish Thistle Club at Shell Mound Park.

The Grand Army of the Republic will have a grand old-time rally and campfire at Laundry Farm, where a very interesting programme of music and literary exercises and games will be in order.

There will be a picnic of Piedmont Parlor of the Native Sons to Forest Grove in the Santa Cruz mountains. A special train will carry the natives and their friends to the grounds, and a very pleasant day will be spent in that quiet retreat.

The Postoffice orders for tomorrow are as follows: There will be an early morning delivery by carriers throughout the city and the central office will be closed throughout the day, except for mail delivery from 12:45 to 1:45 P. M. The stamp and money order departments will be closed all day.

Contractor Nelson and His Carpenters.

P. F. Nelson, the contractor who is building the large two-story house at the northwest corner of Eighth and Linden streets, says that the carpenters at work have not gone on a strike, but that he has discharged a few who were more farmers than carpenters and has employed others, and work on the building is actively in progress.

Entertainment and Social.

The programme which was prepared for the last social at the Market Street Congregational Church will be carried out this evening at the church on Market street, near Twenty-second, combined with a social. The admission will be free. An invitation is extended to strangers and friends of the church to participate in the evening's enjoyment.

Cooler Today.

Under the influence of a murky sky the temperature kept very low this morning, the glass at noon recording only 68 degrees.

The afternoon was also pleasant, at 2:30 o'clock the thermometer being at 72 degrees.

A Daylight Job.

Emile Mercier of Eighth and Chester streets reports to the police that on Saturday last thieves, taking advantage of an open door, went into his house and stole about $60 worth of jewelry. Mercier is a barber at Ninth and Broadway.

A Murderous Italian.

Guiseppe Giorso was arrested in Alameda this afternoon and charged with an assault with a deadly weapon on complaint of D. Vincenso. The Italians had some sort of a row in a vegetable garden this morning. Justice Allen fixed the defendant's bail at $1000.

The Fourth at Tubbs.

Tubbs Hotel will be elaborately decorated for the Fourth. Bunting will be displayed and 300 lanterns will illuminate the grounds.

THE PIEDMONT BATHS.

An Increasing Patronage—Every One Well Pleased.

The patronage of the Piedmont Baths keeps up its leviathan proportions. The tank is continually filled with sportive bathers while the Hammam and tub departments also attract many a score. To-morrow evening there will be another grand concert, and on account of it being the national holiday some special and pleasing features will be introduced.

Visitors from all parts pronounce the baths the handsomest and most luxuriantly appointed they have ever seen. The dressing room accommodations far surpass those of any similar institutions, and in fact the same regard for comforts is noticeable in every department of the building. All fears about the purity of the water have long since been allayed, for the supply is as good as the Pacific Ocean itself.

A Good Investment.

An interview wanted with a party of means who desires making a safe investment in a legitimate business that will pay large returns. Fullest investigation solicited. Principals only will please answer and state where conference can be had. Address Investment, box 1, this office.

Pastor Ritman Returned.

Rev. George E. Ritman has returned from his vacation and will preach in the Twentieth-street Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening. The subject for the evening discourse will be "Religious Bigotry and Fanaticism."

In Search of Warm Weather.

Miss Gussie Hornick has gone to Sacramento to spend a few weeks with friends.

ALLIANCE AT NILES.

The Farmers' Association in Alameda County.

EFFECT OF HOT WEATHER ON THE CROPS

The People of Niles and Their Amusements—Campers in the Canyon. Church Matters.

The Farmers' County Alliance met at the town hall at Niles Wednesday afternoon. It was the quarterly meeting and representatives of all the neighboring alliances were present.

The following officers were elected: President, H. W. Valpey of Warm Springs; vice-president, H. Overacker, Centerville; treasurer, J. Copeland of Pleasanton; secretary, Mrs. Shaw of Warm Springs; doorkeeper, Charles Sweet, Centerville; assistant doorkeeper, Miss Kate Craycroft of Warm Springs; chaplain, Mr. Kraft of Mission San Jose; lecturer, A. T. Dewey of San Francisco.

The Warm Weather.

The mercury registered this week 108 degrees on Monday, 105 degrees on Tuesday and 104 degrees on Wednesday. The hot weather has done the fruit generally a great amount of good. The heated period has hastened the apricots, peaches and pears, but from reports the burning sun has damaged the raspberries and currants somewhat. Cherries are gone. A large grain crop has been harvested, and it is generally agreed that the warm weather is a blessing to the fruit grower.

Notes From the Churches.

The St. James Episcopal Sewing Society met with Mrs. H. E. Mosher Thursday, July 2d.

The frame framework of the Catholic Church is up and work on it is progressing rapidly.

Last Sunday was Communion Sunday at the Congregational Church. Rev. Mr. King of Trinity county was present and gave a very interesting talk to the children. Four new members were admitted into the church, three by letter—one from Bethany Congregational Church, one from the First Congregational Church, San Francisco, and one from the First Congregational Church, Oakland—and one by profession of faith.

The Ladies' Guild met last Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Joseph Tyson, with an attendance of twenty or more members. Upon the report of the Piano Committee a discussion of the qualities of the instrument sent by Sherman, Clay & Co. followed, and the guild decided to return it as unsatisfactory. Mrs. L. E. Thane read a very interesting paper containing suggestions for the improvement of the village and community, and two committees were appointed to work upon the most feasible of such suggestions. Luscious cherries were passed with the coffee and sandwiches. The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Henry Tyson, after which a vacation of a couple of months will probably be taken by the society.

General News.

Large shipments of raspberries and currants are being sent from this point.

The Moore fruit ranch has lately been sold to new-comers, who will make their home here.

James Martin floated the green colors of the Irish flag under the stars and stripes on the opening of his new hotel.

Niles will be left lonely on Saturday, as a great many people will be absent spending the glorious Fourth elsewhere.

The section men have been busy for the last few days burning and clearing away the grass and stubble beside the railroad tracks.

Professor Eastman of San Francisco, formerly teacher of elocution at Washington College, gave a recital Tuesday evening in the Congregational Church. There was but a small audience present.

The last social gathering of the Union Whist Club was held Friday of last week in a picnic at the lake in the canyon. A number of friends of the members were included in the company by invitation, and a merry day was spent by all. The children filled the boats to the verge of sinking and frolicked in the water during the entire day. The lunch provided by the ladies was delicious. Several quiet games of whist and cribbage were played in the cool shade, and the company, numbering more than forty, reluctantly drove homeward toward sunset.

J. B. Astrue has purchased three lots on Main street and is going to put up immediately a twenty-room building for hotel purposes.

The paycar came through last Thursday and gladdened the hearts of many employes of the Southern Pacific Company.

Personal News.

Fifteen people of Niles attended the zoological entertainment given at the Centerville Town Hall last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. N. Rodgers, from Oakland, visited several days of this week with Mrs. W. H. Turnor.

Miss Abbie Barter, who has been spending some time with her cousin, Edith Turnor, returned Tuesday to her home in Oakland.

Miss May Burdick of Newark has been visiting several days with her friend, Miss Susie Ellsworth.

Mrs. A. Chisholm is out again after a severe attack of la grippe.

The family of Adolph Herbst is spending several days in San Jose.

The Misses Miley returned to San Francisco on Wednesday, after a vacation of several weeks at The Walnut.

Mrs. C. Shinn spent Monday with friends in Livermore.

Miss Zillah Eadon of East Oakland was the guest of her friend, Mrs. L. E. Thane, over Sunday.

Mrs. A. J. Stiles of Berkeley, accompanied by Miss Tower, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. Shinn's people.

The Spreckles party from San Francisco with six large tents went into camp near the picnic grounds on Wednesday.

Judge Tilden has launched a pretty new sailboat on the little lake near his home. He and his grandchildren enjoy gay times together managing the little craft.

The campers in the canyon have merry times among themselves. They often give dancing parties at the pavilion in the evening.

For the past month the young people have enjoyed the weekly hops given at The Walnut. The last one of the season will be next Saturday evening. Many of the young ladies and gentlemen are invited to attend.

Miss Julia Campbell of San Francisco is visiting with her friend Mrs. J. Donovan.

C. L. Tilden of San Francisco spent a few days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Tilden.

Adolph Herbst of San Francisco passed Sunday at The Walnut.

Miss Mabel and Ada Clark are spending their vacation with their parents at this place.

Miss Minnie Snyder visited Sunday in Sunol with relatives.

The Ellsworth family, accompanied by Miss Lizzie Snyder, leave Wednesday for Monterey and Santa Cruz, where they will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Carmen of Oakland were in Niles Sunday visiting with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Maar have gone to Pacific Grove to pass several weeks.

Last Sunday eight carloads of people of San Francisco and Oakland picnicked in Niles canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ford have returned from their northern trip, and report having enjoyed a most delightful time.

O. Howard of Galt spent Sunday with his friend Frank Mortimer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wade of East Oakland were in Niles the last of the week, preparing to go into camp in the Hadsell field at Sunol.

Mrs. L. Barb has been very ill, but is slowly improving under Dr. Allen's care.

Miss Florence Mayhew spent several days of this week with friends at Sunol.

Mark Campbell was in Niles Sunday, visiting with his sister, Miss Julia Campbell.

Mrs. W. H. Hayse and daughter of Oregon are at Mrs. L. Babb's.

Last Saturday evening Misses Kittie Mulloy, Belle Kincaid and Grace Kimball, all of San Francisco, paid Niles a visit. During their stay here they visited their different friends who are camping in the canyon, and then returned in the evening to the home of Mrs. Babb and partook of a delicious supper, and all spent a merry time. Sunday morning the young ladies left for Sunol.

The United States Government Report on baking powders shows Royal superior to all others. It is pure, made from wholesome ingredients, and greatest in leavening strength. It is the only baking powder for those desiring the finest, most wholesome food.

THE SPORTING MEN.

The Forty-fourth Defeat of the Colonel's Gentlemen.

The Colonels met their forty-fourth defeat at the Haight-street Park yesterday afternoon, when they encountered the San Jose Club. It was not expected that the Oaklands would win because the manager had put a weak team in the field. The Colonels, however, played a better game than was expected, and as a result made their opponents hustle in the closing innings. Balsz was hit very hard for three innings and was retired to give place to Sommers. The San Jose boys made runs when they wanted them, however, and as a result the game ended in their favor by a score of 9 to 8.

A. W. Lawson, a new twirler secured by Robinson, has arrived in Oakland. He has been playing with the Spokane nine and is considered a fair pitcher.

Roberts and Reitz, late of the Rochester club, are expected to arrive in Sacramento tomorrow. They will play in the game against Sacramento on Sunday.

A game is in progress at the Oakland grounds this afternoon between the San Francisco and the San Jose clubs.

The championship games of the Pacific States Lawn Tennis Association are in progess at San Rafael. Yesterday Sam Neel of the East Oakland club defeated Code of the Olympic club by scores of 6-3, 6-4. Gray defeated W. A. Magee by a score of 7-5, 4-6, 7-5. Stewart of the Lakeside club defeated Andrews by a score of 6-2, 6-0. Hoffman had a hard time besting Cooke of the Oakland High School and finally won by a score of 7-5, 6-8, 6-3. The Oakland players now in the tournament are: C. P. Hubbard H. H. Haight, A. T. Stewart and Sam Neel.

There will be an interesting cricket game at the Alameda grounds tomorrow. In a short time the clubs will give a benefit to Thomas Booth, who was run over by the train on First street a few days ago. He was a member of the Burnaby club. The clubs forming the league are: Oakland, Alameda, Pacific and California. The schedule of games is as follows:

A USEFUL BOOK.

The Popular Railroad Guide for July and Its Contents.

The July number of the Popular Railroad Guide contains a large quantity of new matter of special interest to the commercial and traveling public. Besides the complete alphabetical arrangement of railroad stations and the official time schedules of all steam railroads regularly operating in California, which have been the special features of the Guide heretofore, it now contains a complete statement of the tariffs of the Pacific Postal Telegraph, the Western Union Telegraph, and the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Companies in California and elsewhere; domestic and foreign postal regulations and rates; ocean steamship fares; Pullman sleeping-car rates; population of Pacific coast towns and cities of over 800 inhabitants, based on the census of 1890; championship games of the California Baseball League; fire-alarm boxes in San Francisco and Oakland; movements of freight trains and valuable information for the guidance of San Francisco shippers by rail, such as directions for the way-billing of goods, the number and location of sheds for the receipt and delivery of freight, etc., and a complete list of the state and district agricultural fairs, with the dates on which the same will be holden, so far as fixed by the various agricultural district associations up to the date of the publication of this issue of the Guide. The time-cards of the street railroads of San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda have also been thoroughly revised, and the system of transfers in vogue noted, so that any stranger within the gates of either city may readily understand how to reach any given point.

More About Lowry.

Further information from Texas regarding G. M. Lowry, who was sent to Texas from here on a requisition, discloses that the indictment against him is for defrauding the New York Life Insurance Company. He had at one time been agent for that company at San Antonio, but lately was a free lance in the business. Taking advantage of this he did a business on promissory notes from cattlemen and ranchmen, generally on three, six and nine months' time.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

THE Board of Trade, by its action yesterday on the electric road bonus showed that it is a live organization and that it has the interests of the city at heart. It should take hold of all questions of importance in the same way.

A WORLD'S Fair bulletin informs us that "cultivated mussels" will form part of the fisheries exhibit. The society of cultivated mussels is no doubt a liberal education in itself, but we want to know whether they are planted in rows or in hills.

CLAY street, between Seventh and Fourteenth streets, needs immediate attention. It should be paved with bituminous rock, as macadam will not wear on a street so generally traveled. Eighth street requires the same sort of improvement.

THE Council must be very firm with property-owners who neglect to lay proper sidewalks when resolutions of intention are passed, or else its acts will be laughed at. When this Council goes out of office there shouldn't be a wooden sidewalk left in the city.

THE Chicago Herald advises the Californians that if we don't quit fighting over World's Fair appointments we shall get no pie. The advice is useless. We would rather fight than eat any time and are now engaged in exhibiting ourselves to an astonished world in our great revival of the drama of the Kilkenny cats.

THE recent accessions to the ranks of the farmers have been quite notable. There is Farmer Maxwell, who sowed the wind and reaped the whirlwind, and Farmer Finley, who deals in the agriculture of the future, and Farmer Charles Howard Shinn, who is breeding the merino ramie on the southdown, and now we have Farmer Dewey, who is farming an institute. In the hands of men entirely great the pen is mightier than the plow.

For the Federated Trades to Consider.

The Federated Trades of Oakland have under consideration the action of the Typographical Union in forbidding the use of plate matter in the daily newspaper offices of this city. We hope that this body will take speedy action in the matter one way or the other, and that their action will be decisive. We do not care which way the decision may be, so long as they make an end of the present condition of uncertainty as to the attitude of organized labor in this city in regard to the use of this labor-saving device. Mr. Leach has been laboring assiduously to persuade the trades that we cannot use plate matter in THE TRIBUNE, and perhaps he would have them believe that he knows our business better than we do ourselves. The only difference between the attitude of THE TRIBUNE and the Enquirer in this matter is that we are willing to abide by the rule made by the union if that rule is enforced against all the newspapers in the city, whereas Mr. Leach refuses to abide by the rule. It is scarcely worth while to point out that the present condition gives Mr. Leach a competitive advantage of a very material character and if it is not stopped we shall begin very speedily to avail ourselves of the same means. Let not the Federated Trades beguile themselves with the belief that this is our quarrel. It is not. It is their quarrel.

THE recent weather made the crusade against the wooden awning about as unprofitable as the displaying of the well-known sign "Hot Lunch." Now, however, that the thrice-blessed fog has come again, the wooden awning must go.

THERE is no reason why the Haywards electric road should not reach Broadway by way of the Eighth-street bridge and Tenth street. If the proper application is made the Council will surely grant the necessary franchise.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether for the electric road.

The Fourth July

In the days of old, when patriots bold
No nonsense from tyrants would stand,
Their eyes they uprolled and of the saber took hold,
And freedom proclaimed through the land.

At Lexington, Monmouth and Bunker's Hill
They fought and they wallowed in gore,
And they never stopped till good work they'd fulfil
In driving marauders away from their shore.

There Washington led and those heroes they bled
Johnny Bull and his wolves to defy
With the work of the state independence was made,
And signed on the Fourth of July.

Now the star spangled banner waves proudly and high,
And its folds since are kissed by the breeze,
While the Goddess of Freedom looks down from the sky
To see it honored in lands and on seas.

POLICE COURT CASES.

John Weintraut and Samuel Drew Discharged From Custody.

The cares of office press heavily on Bailiff Sam Mitchell of the Police Court. Outside of his duties at the hall of justice he is a private secretary for Chief Tompkins, recording secretary of two or three organizations, local representative for the Sutherland Sisters, dramatic critic for the Christian Endeavor Intelligencer and ex-officio attorney-at-law. And now in addition to all this he is acting clerk of the Police Court during the absence of W. S. O'Brien. Sam took charge of this new office when business opened this morning, but also attended to his duties as bailiff, rapping the meeting to order from his customary place near the desk and then springing with circus-like agility into the clerk's chair.

John Toomey was the first defendant arraigned and in response, a coatless, long-whiskered man arose slowly to his feet and bracing himself against the wall pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He grew sorrowful as he heard the decree of three days and then slowly lowered himself back into his seat.

A queer quartet came next all boys under 16 years of age, named John McCarthy, John Murphy, George Harris and Richard Finley. They were found sleeping in a box-car in East Oakland at an early hour this morning and said that they came over from San Francisco and were tired out. Their attire was something wonderful, all looking as if they had been costumed from the pickings of a rag pile. They all pleaded guilty and were ordered to appear on Monday for sentence.

A decrepit old man who could scarcely stand responded to the name of John Riley. Last night he and Joe Turner were run in by Officer Pelley for disturbing the peace under circumstances that make it appear that old Riley is blameless. It appears that Turner set a dog on him and that the old man crept into a saloon for protection and was followed by his assailants. He then struck at them with his stick and at this time the police intervened and the arrests took place. Judge Allen permitted Riley to go on his own recognizance, but Turner's bail was set at $25 and both cases were continued to Monday morning next.

Richard Cochran of 1159 Seventh street, who made a compulsory journey to the police station last night on a charge of disturbing the peace of his wife, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the 8th inst.

H. Hooley, the facts of whose arrest were recited in yesterday's TRIBUNE, was represented by Attorney Luttrell, who pleaded not guilty to the two charges preferred. The first case was set for July 15th and the other for August 5th. Hooley denies flatly having committed the larcenies, and says that he found Williams' watch and was keeping it to return to him personally. He has well-to-do relatives in Placer county.

James White, one of the two young men who refused to pay his fare on the Berkeley train, raised $15 bail yesterday and declined to come and redeem it today. He lost $10 by this move though, for Thomas Kelley, who was arrested with him, was fined only $5.

George Mackey, who pleaded guilty yesterday to stealing some gas pipe was given thirty days.

Antonio Fransletta, who deposited $25 bail for maintaining a nuisance, did not appear, although a jury had been summoned, and his security was forfeited.

Such a trivial affair as the evidence showed the felony charges against the boys John Weintrant and Samuel Drew, accused of robbing Manuel Cartoo, has not been heard in the Police Court for a long time. The evidence showed that the boys had merely asked him for a cigarette and had taken from him two little pieces of lead pencil about an inch long each. Everybody, the Judge included, looked disgusted as the case wore along, and at last Prosecuting Attorney Church wearied of it himself and threw up the sponge. The boys were at once discharged.

A Fire on the Hearst Ranch.

A fire on the Hearst ranch at Sunol, now under lease to Dan McCarly, the horseman, destroyed 200 acres of hay and grain last Monday. A lot of fencing and twenty acres of pasture on the ranch of County Surveyor Nusbaumer, adjoining were also destroyed. The fire was started by a neighbor attempting to burn his stubble.

NO VACANCIES NOW.

All Positions in the County Schools Are Filled.

KINDERGARTEN CLASSES MAY BE FORMED

The Proposed Union High School for Washington Township — Certificates and Warrants.

Grammar school course certificates are no longer issued by the County Board of Education, having been abolished by a new law. They will be replaced by other certificate. Holders of such certificates heretofore granted are entitled to receive High School certificates in their stead, and the board has no right to refuse to grant them in lieu of the others when they are presented for cancellation. Several teachers have already applied to have their old certificates cancelled.

Under the law a Board of Trustees has no right to draw upon the funds of this year to pay census marshals for work done in last year. The County Superintendent will keep an eye on the warrants presented by the census men.

The County Board of Education will henceforth grant grammar grade certificates to holders of unexpired educational diplomas at any time prior to the time when those diplomas expire. They may if they desire grant them even on the last day of the validity of the diplomas. Educational diplomas cannot be renewed. There is no law authorizing this action and the State Board has decided that it will not renew them.

There is some talk of establishing a kindergarten class in some of the country schools. By an amendment passed by the last Legislature, children of the age of 4 years may be admitted to the public schools in all cities and towns in which the kindergarten has been or may be established. This will, of course, authorize the formation of purely kindergarten classes. All that is required to establish such a class is for the Board of Education or Board of Trustees to pass an order to that effect. Such a class may be supported by means of public money, as other classes are supported, and the teacher may be paid out of either State or county funds.

County Superintendent of Schools Frick this morning received the new printed manuals, which will be distributed among the teachers in this county. The manuals will serve as a guide to the teachers, and must be followed. Therein is made the statement: "This manual is issued by the County Board of Education in accordance with the requirements of Section 1771 of the Political Code. It is also made the duty of school officers and teachers by sections 1617 and 1696 of the Political Code, to enforce and execute the rules and regulations, course of study and other matters therein prescribed. It is necessary that you thoroughly familiarize yourselves with all the provisions of this manual, the law imposing upon this board the duty of enforcing a strict compliance therewith. The board acknowledges its indebtedness to all teachers of the county who responded to its invitation to present suggestions relating to the course of study, and especially to J. W. Wilkins in preparing the course in music."

County Superintendent Frick and his wife will spend the Fourth of July at the grove of A. P. Haines, between Decoto and Alvarado. Mr. Haines for many years has made it the custom to invite his friends to spend the Fourth at the grove and enjoy his hospitality. The school children of the district and their parents may also visit the grove.

Charles Bond of Irvington called at the Superintendent's office today to ascertain some legal points about the establishing of a Union High school in Washington township. Mr. Bond is determined that the district shall not be outdone by Murray township and already has a petition which has been signed by many citizens. In order to harmonize the various towns in the township it is now proposed to include every school district in the township in the High School district. Mr. Bond is now working with this end in view. After consulting with Mr. Frick he called upon District Attorney Reed and was advised concerning the legal points in the matter. A meeting of all the Trustees in the township will be held in a short time.

Mr. Frick is working on the difficult task of preparing his annual report, which will be forwarded to the State Superintendent. The law requires that he must make his census returns by the 1st of August.

Next Monday the schools at Haywards, Dublin, La Costa and Lockwood will open for the new school year.

The following changes of teachers in the country schools have been reported: Miss Jenkins has been elected to a position in the Decoto school. At Alvarado C. S. Osborn succeeds A. B. Thomosen. The new principal was for many years a teacher at Alvarado, and resigned about four years ago. At the Dublin school John Stevens, who succeeded Mr. Frazer, will retire, and Nelson Carr will open the new term at the school. Mr. Carr comes from Los Angeles, and is said to have had ten years' experience in teaching. At Mount Eden M. B. Countryman succeeds J. S. Geary, who retires from school life for the purpose of studying law. The new teacher comes from Pennsylvania, and little is known of him in this county. Miss Carrie Bellina will look after the children at the Eden Vale school.

Mr. Frick has received almost a hundred applications for positions as teachers in this county. These applications come from all over the country. Mr. Frick, however, does not have the giving of positions and can only recommend a teacher to the Trustees, who are the sole judges in the matter. His recommendation, however, would probably go a long way in assisting an applicant. At present there are no vacancies in the country schools, and there is little chance for applicants to secure positions.

TWO DAYS AHEAD OF TIME.

A Blaze of Fireworks and Destruction of a Building in West Oakland.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Fire Department was called out to extinguish a blaze in the old Roadmaster's headquarters on Seventh street, near the buy. The fire was a lively one, notwithstanding the fact that the building was of brick, and before the engines arrived nearly all the woodwork in the interior was destroyed. The heat was intense and trains were stopped for some time. It took but a short while for the flames to consume the building, and although the firemen did good work when they arrived, yet nothing but the brick walls were left standing. Many telegraph wires were broken and several poles were scorched. A wind was blowing which might have carried the flames to the adjoining block were it not for the prompt work with the hose. A rumor spread that several children were caught in the flames, and this created some excitement. However, the report was unfounded.

The building is the property of the Southern Pacific Company, and was occupied at the time by a branch of the California Fireworks Company of San Francisco, which had a large stock of fireworks for the 4th stored there. It had been used as a toy torpedo factory, and many persons were employed making the explosives until a large stock was on hand.

The fire originated in the rear of the building from a small explosion caused by a man capping matches. The stock of combustibles was not insured, but a portion of the tools was covered by a policy. The building is a total loss.

Formerly the building was occupied as a station for the Berkeley train, but was subsequently converted into an office by Roadmaster Palmer, who occupied it for some time. Trackmaster Kellogg used the structure later on. The railroad company would not have been sorry if the entire building had been laid to the ground, for it would have saved them the trouble of tearing it down. The structure will never be re-constructed, as it was in a bad position. It was situated in the center of a triangle of tracks, completely hiding from view approaching trains. It was considered as a nuisance because of the dangerous purpose for which it had been lately used, and no surprise was manifested at its destruction. A young lady nearly lost her sight there recently. The loss was merely nominal to the company. Some of the fireworks were saved and much of the explosive material used in their manufacture was taken away before the flames reached it.

VOWS OF THE RELIGEUSES.

Final Consecration of Four Sisters at Sacred Heart Convent.

White Veils Bestowed Upon Two Novices—The Cape and Robe of the Postulant.

Yesterday at the Convent of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart on Webster street His Grace Most Reverend Archbishop Riordan conferred the black veil on four young ladies and gave the white veil to two novices. One young woman was admitted to the degree of postulant.

Masses of beautiful flowers were displayed everywhere, and about 600 relatives and invited friends of the new religeuses were congregated in the chapel.

The ceremonies began in the forenoon with the procession of the candidates from a side sacristy to the space in front of the altar railing, each of the candidates being attended by two little bridesmaids arrayed in white garments. The young ladies who appeared to receive the black veils wore the flowing dark robes of the sisterhood with the white head covering given them two years ago. The two novices and the postulant were in the blue costumes of the Children of Mary. Rev. Thomas McSweeney officiated as celebrant of the mass that followed and the choir was composed of eighty sisters.

After the consecration Archbishop Riordan was invested with the insignia of his office and began the impressive rites of reception and profession, which lasted three hours and concluded with an eloquent address from his Grace to the new sisters on the responsibility of the vocation which they have chosen.

The names of the religeuses upon whom his Grace conferred black veils were Miss Charlotte Poulter, Sister Margaret of the Sacred Heart; Miss Ellen Boyle, Sister Mary Serena; Miss Christine O'Neill, Sister John Berchmans; Miss Maggie Kernes, Sister Mary Gerald.

The names given to the two novices who received white veils were Miss Alice O'Connell, Sister Peter Claver; Miss Sara Murray, Sister Imelda of the Blessed Sacrament.

The candidate given the cape and robe of a postulant was Miss M. Hanrahan.

Native Sons' Picnic.

Thirty railroad cars have been engaged by Piedmont Parlor of the Native Sons to take its invited guests to the picnic at Forest Grove tomorrow, and the indications are that the cars will be crowded. The train will leave Fourteenth and Webster streets at 7:30 A. M. and will connect at Park street, Alameda, with the 7:15 A. M. boat from San Francisco. The round trip fare will be $1 25.

"THE DOUBLING OUT."

That Means One Crew to Manage Two Trains.

A CONDUCTOR ON THE DELAYS AT NIGHT.

He Expects That Longer Hours Will Be Required of Trainmen on the Local Run.

"An extra crew will never be put on, even if the railroad company does stop 'doubling out' at night," said a local conductor. "They will make one crew do two hours' more work, and then all the additional expense that will fall on the company will be the fuel burned by the extra engine.

"The trouble is right here," continued the conductor. "There are two crews on until 9 o'clock. The crew that takes the 9 o'clock train down goes home. Now the 9 o'clock boat brings over the passengers for the Oregon express train, and there is generally a big crowd on the boat. This always makes the boat late. It is rarely less than five minutes behind time. We have to wait and the run to Fruit Vale does not allow much of a time margin. The 10 o'clock boat brings none but local passengers, and it is always on time, while the train is delayed. The result is that we can't get back and switch around in time to take out the passengers from the 10 o'clock boat without a wait. If we could get out of the pier on time on the 9 o'clock trip we could get back and switch around and be ready at the 10 o'clock trip. Every minute we lose at night is almost impossible to make up.

"What they will do will be to saddle us with two hours extra work. We have been expecting it for some time, and I guess it is coming now."

When the local trains first began to run into the new depot on the mole, nearly ten years ago the train crews, after 7 o'clock, had to "double out," as the crews on the late trips are doing at present. But the evening travel grew so that two crews had to be run until 9 o'clock. Somehow the railroad officials do not seem to recognize the fact that the railroad travel has grown large enough to require another change.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC.

Wheat and Passengers on the Move—Increased Yard Facilities.

Traffic on the railroad is increasing in all directions, and business in both the passenger and freight departments is more brisk than at any time during the present year.

The warm weather has brought out the passenger travel, and nearly doubled it in the past two or three weeks.

Wheat is beginning to move briskly, and three additional switch engines have been placed at work in the Port Costa yard.

So much business is being done at Stockton that an additional switch engine and switch crew have been put to work.

A SMALL RATE WAR.

A Boycotted Road Turns On Its Boycotters and Cuts Rates.

The rate war that is agitating the roads between St. Louis and Denver, has little effect in Oakland. The Chicago & Alton Railroad has been boycotted by the Transcontinental Association for some of its past misdeeds, and the Chicago & Alton retorted by cutting rates $2 50 between St. Louis and Denver. The Atlantic & Pacific and the Union Pacific have each met the cut, and if the Chicago & Alton road maintains the present position there may be some further cuts.

PRECAUTIONS FROM FIRE.

Sensible Requests of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department.

J. F. Kennedy, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, requests that on the 3d, 4th and 5th of July, all skylights, scuttles and attic windows be kept closed, and that buckets be filled with water and kept in convenient places, and garden hose be attached so that they may be used in case of fire. The chief will have seventy men all told on duty during the three days.

The Annual Fire Report.

Chief Kennedy has started the compilation of his annual report. It includes a record of all business of his department to the close of the fiscal year.

A Fine Testimonial.

OAKLAND, March 17th, 1891.

Having suffered for a long time from a peculiar stomach trouble, originally caused from the use of tobacco. I tried many physicians but found no permanent relief until I consulted Dr. Blaett, 1015 Broadway, Oakland, and under whose treatment I have entirely recovered. I would urge upon all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia to apply to him at once, and I am satisfied that you will never regret it. I consider the doctor permanently qualified to treat troubles of this nature.

THE NEW THEATER.

It Is Now an Assured Success.

Oakland is to have a new theater. It will be equal in beauty to the Baldwin or the California, so it will be no longer the fashion to go to San Francisco and suffer a long and unpleasant journey to see a theatrical performance. But there are other kinds of performances. The Whitney and Standard Express for instance, are the people who will do your transferring cheaply. They perform all their work well.

— SOMETHING NEW —

TO PURCHASERS OF

FRUIT VALE LANDS.

IN THE OFFERING FOR SALE OF A TRACT of land in small subdivisions, on easy terms, by speculators or operators in real estate, it is customarily deemed necessary that there should be a margin of nearly 100 per cent between the value of the tract as a whole and that to be realized in lots, in order to cover expenses of sale, commission, interest on capital, and a reasonable net profit to the speculator. I have a plat of land containing nearly twenty acres, desirably situated at the terminus of the Highland Park and also of the new Fruit Vale Avenue Railroads, which I would be willing to sell for $25,000 as an entirety. The streets are graded. Plank sidewalk laid in front and throughout the tract. This property is so situated that it could be subdivided into lots of 50 feet frontage and sold at a handsome advance over the price named if purchasers desire. If a syndicate of buyers be formed to take up the entire tract within a short time, I propose to divide the property in Twenty Large Subdivisions of about an Acre each subdivision having a street frontage of 200 to 300 feet—on the following terms: Price of each of the twenty subdivisions:

$1000—ONE QUARTER CASH—$1000

Subscriptions will be taken from proposed purchasers—a deposit being made at time of subscription of $100 for each plot; within 30 days or as soon as fifteen subscriptions have been made, $150 more must be paid; then subscribers to make their selections, subscriber No. 1 having first choice, No. 2 the second choice, and so on in numerical order. There is not a single plot in the tract that is not well worth the price paid—many of them are worth very much more. By the plan indicated each purchaser is independent of all others, and those who subscribe early have a great advantage of first choice. A Certificate of Title by approved searchers will be furnished each purchaser, without expense, if desired. Deed and mortgage prepared without charge. To each purchaser who may erect a dwelling on his lot within a specified time, a Free Pass Over the Street Railroads to either Fruit Vale or Brooklyn station for five years will be furnished. More information and further information can be had at the office of the undersigned. Intending purchasers will please call early, as the proposition is an advantageous one for buyers and it is likely to be taken up promptly.

J. H. MACDONALD,

470 Ninth St., - Near Broadway.

For once in my life I am truly sorry that I am not a "goody-goody" Sunday school girl—by reputation at any rate; for if I were such a saintly creature I might be invited to attend the meeting of the ladies who protest against the poolsellers. But at one time, years ago, when I was very young and very foolish I played poker (penny ante and ten cent limit) and the reputation gained at that time I have never been able to outlive. Therefore I was not asked to be one of the protestants. This fact disappoints and grieves me and fills me with a sense of personal injury done me by Fate. Not that I care particularly to protest against the poolrooms — I am perfectly willing to depute my protesting to some of the good ladies who have had years of matrimonial experience, and consequently know how to protest in the most forcible and telling manner. But I would give all my last year's bonnets if I could attend some of those meetings and see some of the nice little fights among the reformers. Seems queer, does it not, that reformers quarrel among themselves? But they always do, no matter whether their reformation has for its object the saving of souls or the making of nice, warm undershirts for the heathen of Central Africa. Well, the ladies of the "Uncommon Council" have proved no exception to the rule that reformers in their little nests cannot agree. By the way, that name they took was a bright idea. I'll venture to say Maud Wyman originated it. She has more brains and brightness than any other girl I know. But I digress.

The ladies of the "Uncommon Council," as I intimated at least once before, have not had perfect Harmony—with a capital H—in all their deliberations. But the worst of it is, I cannot get the exact particulars of the unpleasantness without asking questions which might reveal my identity. I do know that more than one lady left a meeting of the "Uncommon Council" because of dissatisfaction with the plan for redeeming the city which was adopted by the majority. Three others had their names omitted from the list of "among those present." For this reason they "took their dolls and went home." If they couldn't make their "light shine before men," they were resolved to "douse the glim," as sailors say, completely. That prince of amateur detectives, Jack, is trying to get some particulars of the row, and I hope by next week to have some interesting details to give.

Speaking of the "Uncommon Council" reminds me of the outrageous attack upon those ladies in a certain nasty little weekly paper. I don't like to advertise the sheet by mentioning it in a metropolitan daily, but I cannot refrain from protesting against such journalism. Even if the ladies are ill-advised in their action, as some good people think, that is no excuse for such attacks upon them. If I were the husband or brother of one of those ladies I should purchase a horsewhip and apply it to where it would do the most good. Oh! I just wish I were a man.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith are having a glorious trip in the East. The last heard of them they were at Lake Minnetonka, but thought of leaving soon to finish their summer on Long Island.

What odd mistakes some people make in naming their children. The other afternoon I called upon an acquaintance in San Francisco. During the call her little daughter came into the room and the fond mother said: "Go and speak to Miss ——, Blanche." Blanche came, without embarrassment, and sweetly answered the foolish questions that I asked her about her age, school, companions, etc.; but I smiled when I noticed that Blanche was a perfect brunette. I know another child named Pearl, who has hair like a raven's wing and big black eyes, while her skin is of deepest olive tint. Alex Rosborough (I think it was he) once told me of some friends who named their baby Ruby; but when they discovered that the child was going to have fiery red hair, they changed her name. They doubtless thought that there is such a thing as too much appropriateness.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and family and Miss Herrick returned on Monday from Santa Barbara. Now I may have a chance to see those famous sketches that the young ladies made while sojourning in that quaint old town. Miss Annie Miller did not stay with us long. She started on Thursday for Alaska.

Alaska is becoming a famous place for summering. Senator G. E. Whitney, accompanied by the Misses Stephanie and Anita Whitney, sailed for the land of seals on Thursday.

Miss Hush has returned from the East, where she has been attending school.

Miss Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore of East Oakland, has returned from Vassar for her vacation. The Moore family left yesterday for Hotel del Monte, where they will spend some days.

Mrs. Edson Adams and Mrs. Thomas Prather are back from Klamath Hot Springs, where they have been spending some time very delightfully.

Everybody is delighted to welcome the Houghtons back to Oakland. They are back in their old home and we "old timers," as Jack would say, have many fond recollections of that hospitable mansion, where we have been so often and so delightfully entertained. Miss Minnie is just as charming as of yore, and will doubtless resume her place as prime favorite in Oakland society. By the way, she has a guest with her at present—Mrs. Huff of Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerret Lansing are the guests of Mrs. E. G. Cohen at Fernside, Alameda.

Chauncey Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Taylor and Ben Taylor start soon for Europe.

Dr. E. H. Woolsey is expected back from the East in about ten days.

Shelby Martin returned yesterday from a trip through Yellowstone Park. He says it even beats Oakland's flower-embowered parks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crellin and Miss Belle Crellin are members of the Oakland colony at Santa Cruz.

Jack told me that he saw stately Gertrude Smith of Portland, Or., on the street in San Francisco a few days ago. She is no longer Gertie Smith, however, but has a handsome husband who was in the procession when Jack met them. Many of our younger society people will remember Miss Smith, who was a great favorite during her school days at Mills, and afterwards when she resided in Oakland for a short time.

Tomorrow I will be down at Aunt Annie's lovely home again. I know it will be dreadfully hot in Santa Clara valley, but I will endure almost anything to escape the everlasting small boy and his firecrackers on our "Glorious Fourth." Perhaps it is defensible on the ground that it inspires the youthful heart with patriotism this giving the small boy an arsenal with which he can amuse himself on the nation's birthday, but it seems to me, as one of the noncombatants, that this cruel war ought to be over by this time. Couldn't the small boy be taught patriotism by some other means that would not shatter the nerves of weak women; increase insurance rates; cause runaways, and send good dollars floating away in smoke?

Speaking of the "G. F." reminds me of a good story Jack tells of two lawyers, partners, who are his friends. He invited them to spend the national holiday with him at Santa Cruz. "Thank you," said the senior partner, "but with our usual luck, we have a very difficult matter coming up next week and will be compelled to spend the Fourth in preparing for it. It's just our luck. We have spent the last three Independence Days in studying troublesome cases." "Yes," assented the junior partner, "the 4th is the day we celebrate."

THE MEDDLER.

The Camp of the Merry Tramps.

"The Merry Tramps" of Oakland, under the leadership of that pioneer of campers, Captain W. C. Mason, are enjoying their twentieth "outing." This time they are encamped five miles southwest of Healdsburg in a forest of redwoods on the banks of a mountain stream abounding in trout. The "boys" have caught as many as 230 of the "speckled beauties" in one day, varying in size from four to seventeen inches in length. "The Merry Tramps" went into camp on the 3d ult., and expect to break camp on the 11th inst. The following named comprise the party: Captain and Mrs. W. C. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Klose, Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Sinney, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Dewing, Captain and Mrs. Roberts of San Lorenzo, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Conklin, Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton E. White, the Misses Alice, Carrie and Nellie Roberts, Misses Grace Mason, Constance Jordan, Gussie Klose, Carrie M. Ellis, May Dewing, Mamie Pope, Virginia White, Madge Williams, Mrs. H. King, Messrs. Charles Dewing, William Culver, Fred White, E. P. Vandercook, Henry Allen, George B. Hawley, Shirley Baker, Henry Fine, Ray S. Melvin, Milton St. John, Ralph M. Dewing.

The Switchmans' Ball.

It was a merry gathering of young people that assembled in Cavalry Hall Tuesday evening to attend the third annual ball given by Golden Gate Lodge, No. 53, Switchmans Mutual Aid Association of North America. The hall was prettily adorned with flowers and foliage in profusion, while from each chandelier many colored lanterns and flags were tastefully displayed. Above the stage in large letters were the words "Welcome, Golden Gate Lodge No. 53, while beneath large palms and ferns added to the beauty of the floral embellishments. About the walls bright airy draperies were hung in pleasing festoons, the colors blending harmoniously. At 8 o'clock Henderson's orchestra struck up the grand march and one hundred and fifty couple promenaded, keeping time to the sweet strains of music. Then the gay dancers spent the evening in carrying out the programme consisting of twenty dances, and right merrily did they chase the hours away. A pleasing feature of the party was the distribution of unique and dainty programmes. As the evening was fast fading into morning the pleasures of Terpsichore ceased.

The great success of the affair was due to the following committees:

Reception committee—M. Manning, Clark Yerrick, John Cronin, Thomas Donohue, C. E. Widger.

Floor manager—J. J. Calaban; assistant, L. E. Andrews.

Floor committee—W. G. Haverlin, Thomas Hewett, Charles Fink, R. H. Brown, E. D. Baldwin.

Mr. Pickert's Birthday.

A delightful surprise was tendered Charles A. Pickert last evening at his home in the Oriental House. The occasion was Mr. Rickert's birthday, and his many friends gave him a warm reception. After congratulations H. Johnston, on behalf of the guests, with a few well chosen words presented the host with a silver service. Mr. Rickert was genuinely surprised, but responded feelingly. Then the company proceeded to enjoy themselves, and dancing and other amusements were indulged in. At a late hour a dainty supper was served.

Among the many present were: H. Johnston, Miss Doan, C. A. Rickert, Mrs. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. C. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, F. E. Curran, Miss E. W. Lowry, D. W. Johnson, Mrs. M. Adams, Miss C. Wells the San Francisco quartet—Messrs. Jones, Dowling, Quigley and Sanson, Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Osbone, J. S. Hanley, L. Bonnet, Miss L. Johnson, F. Smith, Miss M. McSherry, F. Basilfield, Miss M. Guerin, G. Fish, Miss A. De Force, Mr. De Force, Miss Constantine Robinette, J. Clooney and Miss M. Dwyer.

The Young Men's Institute Banquet.

Never was Peralta Hall, on Seventh and Peralta streets, filled with a merrier throng of young people than gathered there Monday evening when Young Men's Institute, No. 8, assisted by the ladies of the Young Ladies Institute, No. 15, gave a banquet to the members of East Oakland Institute, No. 31, and members of the San Francisco Lodge, No. 1. Early in the evening the cabs began to arrive bringing the merry guests to the scene of the evening's festivities. By the time the hands of the clock had moved around to 9 the hall was packed to the doors with guests, who awaited the beginning of an excellent entertainment, consisting of recitations, instrumental music and songs.

For several days before the deft fingers of Mrs. James O'Day and a couple of fair assistants were busily engaged in transforming the hall into a vision of loveliness, and how well their labors were accomplished was clearly shown by tasteful embellishments within the spacious hall. All along the dado in the hall were evergreens, mingled with bright hued roses and calla lilies. Streamers of foliage were pendant from each chandelier, while beneath them hung sixteen Chinese lanterns. The stage was a floral bower. Evergreens, chrysanthemums, lilies, pinks, roses and sweet-scented flowers in profusion presented a very pretty appearance. Many complimentary remarks were heard about the beautiful decorations.

Shortly after 8 o'clock an entertainment of rare merit began, and the success reflects much credit upon the participants.

At the conclusion of the entertainment a sumptuous collation was partaken of. The menu was as follows:

SOUPS.
Ox Tail, Bouillon.
ENTREES.
Shrimp Salad, Baked Halibut.
Chicken Fricassee. Oysters a la poulette.
VEGETABLES.
Green Peas. Sweet Corn. Lima Beans.
ROAST.
Lamb and Mushrooms. Veal.
DESSERTS.
Cakes. Table Fruits.
Ice Cream. Mocha.
WINES.
Zinfandel. Sherry.
Claret. White Wine.

Fully an hour was spent in the enjoyment of the delicious menu, after which the following toasts were heartily quaffed by all: "Church and Society," Rev. J. B. McNally; "Our Guests," M. J. O'Day; "Sister Institutions," E. J. Sheehan; "The Institutes," W. J. Barrett; "California," F. J. Smith; "Our Officers," J. Henneberry; "The Press," J. Carey. A. Rosborough and Thomas Wheelan sang a duet, "The Day That I Played Baseball."

At a late hour the guests with reluctance left the tempting tables and bade farewell to the scene of the evening's enjoyment. The banquet was a most successful affair throughout, and much credit is due to the ladies of the Young Ladies' Institute who had it in charge.

Some of the gentlemen who attended were: John Connolly, T. F. Wheelan, Stephen A. O'Keeffe, John L. Ferrin, F. B. Raye, V. Gilardin, A. Kretz, James Garland, Thomas Gray, H. J. O'Donnell, John Moran, M. L. Sullivan, Richard H. Stokes, Thomas B. Phillips, J. Mullen, Barney J. Stokes, John McHugh, Joseph W. Brown, M. Grady, James Storey, M. J. Kelley, Phillip Kennedy, J. Miss Hettie Bailey Surprised.

The "Big Four," which was recently organized, celebrated their organization by tendering a surprise party to Miss Hettie Bailey last Saturday evening at Masonic Hall, corner of Seventh and Willow streets. The hall was well filled. The evening's enjoyment consisted of dancing and games, after which a delightful repast was served. The remainder of the evening was passed in social enjoyment until 12:30 o'clock, when the guests departed. Among those present were: Misses Hettie Bailey, Maud Miller, Kate Kimball, Miss Gill, Miss Carew, Annie Lawson, Ruth Phillips, Maggie Lawson, Mamie Carollan, Irene Bailey, Annie Simon, Amelia Simon, Rose Carollan, Libbie Hanford, Minnie Sheldon, Emma Wigginton, Josie Sheldon, Hess Parsons, Ella Moore, Elsie Dorsch, Tillie Dorsch, Miss Brunker, Gertie Reed, Ida Moore, Maud Burgess, Alpha Bacon, Dollie Rowland, Belle Davison, Jennie Davison, Lizzie DeMony, Carrie Locke, Florence Jones, Edna Olmsted, Tessie Olmsted, Miss Marr, Laura Dernery, Miss Wall of San Francisco, May Muller, Juanita Lawson, Emma Vogt, Doris Sandison, Millie Harvey, Arthur Jones, George Almsted, Frank McGuen, C. A Seventieth Birthday.

An enjoyable surprise party was tendered Mrs. Henning on Wednesday evening, June 17th, at the home of her son, 1020 Willow street. The affair was given in honor of the seventieth anniversary of Mrs. Henning's birth, and was attended by a large number of friends, some of whom were: Mr. and Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Henning, Mr. and Mrs. Henning, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Lauritzen, Mr. Halvorsen, Mr. Printzlow, Mr. Osborn, Mr. Olsen, Mrs. Captain Moore, Mrs. Captain Hansen, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Haines, Miss Moore, Miss Olsen, Miss Printzlow, Marie Nelson, Elise Nelson, Louise Henning, Hildur Henning, Nellie Wilson, Henry Henning, Edward Henning, Berthel Henning, Andrew Nelson, Allie McKay, Henry Foster, Charles Foster, Miss Hansen, Amy Gosefund, Ida Printzlow, Nellie Foster.

Betrothals.

The engagement is announced of Charles C. Nichols, eldest son of C. M. Nichols, chief surveyor of the Pacific Coast Insurance Company, and Miss Kelly, daughter of M. J. Kelly, paying teller of the Sather Banking Company of San Francisco.

Harry Belden will shortly marry Miss Susie Floud. Both young people are well known in Oakland.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Lily Hesser of Oakland and Joseph Maguire of San Francisco. The ceremony will be performed in San Francisco next Sunday.

Master Audifred's Birthday.

Master Albert Audifred was tendered a delightful surprise party Monday evening at his home on Twenty-fourth street, the occasion being the celebration of his twelfth birthday. An elaborate supper was served. Among those present were: Louise Raleigh, Lilian Peterson, Marion Washburn, Louise French, Maggie Savish, Helen Nelson, Flora Sternitzky, Florence Hatch, Lily Sinclair, Florence Busse, Minnie Authausen, Delia West, Nana Raleigh, Stella Slavish, Anna Knight, Regina Rosenberg, Minnie Lloyd, Catherine Gray, Nellie Clark, Grace Dawson, Clarissa Eisy, Leontine Perrie, Essie McCall, Ralph Emery, Oscar Busse, Albert Audifred, Maxwell Jones, Henry Kohler, Fred Sinclair, Montfort Crowell, Harry Raleigh, John Slavish, Ralph Knight, Anderson Peterson, Willard Coats, Louis McCall, Elvin Wixom, Archie Boland, George Davis, Willie Perrie, Charles Taylor, Walter Boland, Hamly Beck, Otto Beeh.

The Field Wedding Anniversary.

An enjoyable party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Field last Wednesday evening at their residence, 555 Nineteenth street, the occasion being the first anniversary of their wedding. The parlors were tastefully decorated with ferns and flowers and presented a beautiful appearance. Games, dancing and music made up the evening's entertainment. The song, "Come Where the Lilies Bloom," was sung by Mrs. Frank Field, Mr. and Mrs. Hadley, Miss Evangeline Field and Mrs. Julia Field. It was loudly applauded and was followed by a solo in French, by Mrs. M. V. Little, and a poem composed for the occasion, by Mr. Little. At 11 o'clock the guests were conducted to the dining-room, where a supper was partaken of. Misses Kittie Lewis, Grace Dods, Evangeline Field and Maude Granger served the guests, and for over an hour the merry party enjoyed the delicious menu prepared for them. After supper dancing was indulged in until the small hours of the morning, when the guests departed for their homes, all wishing the young couple much happiness. Among those present were: Judge and Mrs. M. L. Tracy, Chicago; Ex-Mayor H. H. Bond, Carson, Nev.; Dr. and Mrs. George Everett, Colonel A. P. Van Lack, Miss Florence Van Lack, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Woolly, Horace Woolly, Gladys Woolly, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Little, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwards, Mrs. Julia Field, Miss Evangeline Field, Miss Maud Field, Messrs. Fred Field, Homer Little, Lewis J. Salley and Edward Carter. Those present from Oakland were: Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Field, Mr. and Mrs. S. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. C. Philips, Miss Kittie Lewis, Miss Lottie Hunt, Miss Grace Dods, Miss Maude Granger, Miss Mattie Chambers, Miss May E. Strong, Edward Lewis, Alexander Crawford, Richard A. Crawford, Thomas J. Mulford and Max Reynolds.

A Choral Union.

Tuesday evening the members of the Twenty-third Avenue Choral Union met in the parlors of John Petty, whose home was profusely decorated with flowers and Chinese lanterns for the occasion. The president delivered the opening address, in which the members were thanked for the interest taken in the society and the hearty support given the leader at the last concert. John Hughes is the conductor. On account of absence of members during the summer it was decided to adjourn until the first Tuesday in September, when the society will renew its studies and receive new members.

The business being over, the members proceeded to enjoy themselves with mirth and song under the supervision of John Hunter, secretary, and Will Stone, who kept the ladies in a continual roar of laughter by his wit.

After a sumptuous repast dancing was engaged in until the small hours. Among the members present were: John Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. John Petty, Mrs. W. Fake, Miss Maud Camp, Miss Birdie Backus, Miss Annie Menomy, Miss Belle White, Miss Lilian Feary, Miss Buck, Miss Nellie Fake, Miss Annie Corrigan, Miss Emma Petty, Miss May Hassard, Miss Alice Fake, Miss Alice Cornwall, Miss Florence Page, Miss Nini Hassard, Miss Maud Page, John D. Hunter, Will Stone, Arthur Petty, Robert Hunter, John Purves Jr., Otis Orondorf, Mr. Stanley, Mr. Bobb, Mr. McKay, Clyde Corrigan, Will Purves, Lloyd Corrigan, Josephus Petty, Will Hewes, Henry Hassard, Simon Eudman.

Railroad drama is the classification of Limited Mail, the play announced for next Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Oakland Theater. It was written by a man who had practical experience on a railroad. He congregates the startling and sensational events in railroad transportation in an astounding way and has made an exciting drama, not one of the kind to prepare an auditor for sweet dreams of peace. The drama has been playing at the Bush-Street Theater, San Francisco.

Of The Limited Mail the New York Dramatic News prints the following: "The Limited Mail is a graphically drawn picture of life on the rail, and in its unfolding are employed some remarkable and successful pieces of imitative realism. The play's greatest hold upon public appreciation is in its situations and climaxes, which are thrilling, and in its scenic and mechanical embellishments, which are extremely elaborate and pretentious. A train of railroad cars dashing across the stage in the space of six seconds is a feature which elicited the unstinted applause of the audience. The sawmill scene, in which the heroine comes within a hair of being cut in twain by a wicked looking "buzz," is excessively thrilling. A message flashed in blazing letters across the wires, forestalling and defeating a dastardly attempt to wreck a train about due, is far and away the best hit of the production."

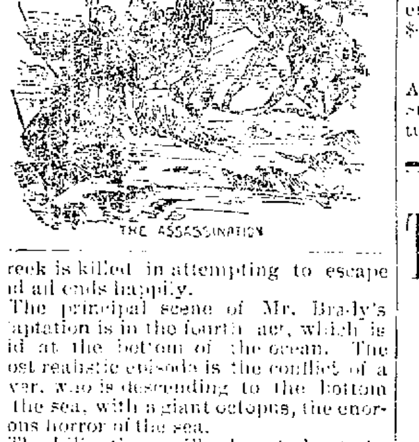

"The Bottom of the Sea."

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings, July 8th and 9th, the spectacular drama, The Bottom of the Sea, will be played by Webster & Brady's company. The feature of this play is the scenical display. All the scenery is carried by the company. Among the representations are the interior of an ocean steamer, the wreck in mid-ocean, full-rigged yacht at sea, man-of-war scene, laying of the cable, descent of the divers, ten transformations of the ocean's depths, attack by the octopus, fight by divers for discovered treasure and a revelation of sea monsters. The present production of the play has been tested by its popular success in an entire season's tour.

The events center about the laying of a West India cable by a young French engineer, assisted by an American engineer. Both love the former's cousin, and this leads to trouble. A rascally Greek tries to kill the French engineer at the bottom of the sea, and the American engineer is arrested for the murder. The supposed dead man, however, turns up alive and saves the accused man. The

THE ASSASSINATION

Greek is killed in attempting to escape and all ends happily.

The principal scene of Mr. Brady's adaptation is in the fourth act, which is laid at the bottom of the ocean. The most realistic episode is the conflict of a diver, who is descending to the bottom of the sea, with a giant octopus, the enormous horror of the sea.

The Liliputians will play at the Oakland Theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 13th, 14th and 15th.

San Francisco Theaters.

This is the last week of the Liliputians at the Baldwin Theater. Next week, Daniel Frohman's company in The Charity Ball.

Lewis Morrison's engagement at the California Theater will end with this week. Next week William J. Gilmore's Twelve Temptations.

At the Bush Street Theater next week, W. A. Mestayer and Theresa Vaughan will produce their farce-comedy Grab Bag.

The Tivoli is playing old favorites. Bells of Corneville this week, Bohemian Girl next week. The Mikado will follow Bohemian Girl.

Stage Chat.

"The Leavenworth Case" has been dramatized by the author, Anna Katherine Greene.

The inventory of P. T. Barnum's estate reveals the fact that the great showman died worth $4,279,532. Of this $1,285,599 is in personal property and $2,993,933 in real estate.

An important and unlooked-for event of the next dramatic season will be the return to the stage of the beautiful Mrs. Scott Siddons, great granddaughter of the famous Sarah Siddons.

There is a possibility that Arthur Rehan may become interested in the Powell Street Theater, San Francisco, in which case the name will be changed to either the Rehan or the Monterey. A stock company will be formed and pieces of a high order of merit only produced during the coming season.

John Russell, the manager of the City Directory Company, has returned from Europe. He has secured some new features for his company. By the way, it must not be forgotten that the company No. 2, which will appear in the farce-comedy, will be called The New Edition Of The City Directory, all the words beginning with capitals.

Bill Nye has finished The Cadi and delivered the MS. to Stuart Robson. The new piece will be produced at the Union Square Theater on September 14th, with Thomas Q. Seabrooke as the star. It will be produced under the management of Stuart Robson and George W. Floyd. Lizzie Hudson Collier has canceled her contract with the management of The Merchant in order to appear in The Cadi.

The plot of a new farcical comedy, The Voodoo, is as follows: A voodoo woman is in search of seven hairs plucked from the face of a man who possesses certain distinct facial peculiarities. The hairs are to be encased in clarified wax and affixed to a lottery ticket which will of course win the capital prize. The search for The Man, his perplexity when about to be plucked and the mystification of the other characters in the piece form the hinge on which the action swings.

Charles Frohman has sprung another surprise on the unsuspecting public. When he announced a while ago that he had secured John Drew, and had been keeping his eye out for the actor, nobody suspected that the other eye was riveted on Henry E. Dixey. So it was, however. Before Mr. Frohman sailed for Europe he made Dixey what is technically known as an "offer." Now he says: "I have engaged Henry E. Dixey for one year. He wants to play in legitimate comedy. I believe that he is fitted for it. I will star him in my company that is to present The Solicitor at Hermann's Theater in September. He will play the title role. The part is a serious one." Charles Frohman has also engaged Georgie Drew Barrymore.

Alfred Bouvier of the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco, gives the following report of business at that theater for a year: The season of the Baldwin Theater commenced on July 7, 1890, with the engagement of the A. M. Palmer Company in Captain Swift. The season of forty odd weeks succeeding that date has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the Baldwin, the gross receipts being $285,000. The Palmer engagement was for five weeks, during which uniform excellent business was the rule. It was followed by Daniel Frohman's Prince and the Pauper to two weeks' good business, which in turn was followed by Henry E. Dixey in a three weeks' engagement, one of the biggest this popular star ever played in the city, the last night being to $1200. The engagement of the Crystal Slipper at the Grand Opera House (during which the Baldwin was closed) has passed into history as one of the most remarkable engagements ever played in this city. It was for four weeks and the capacity of the Grand Opera House was tested at every performance. W. T. Carleton played two weeks at the Baldwin in repertoire to good business, and Clara Morris followed with a splendid two weeks' engagement, appearing the last week for the first time on any stage in Sardou's play Odette, in which she made an immense hit. Emma Abbott played a two weeks' engagement, beginning December 15th, to good business, and went from there to Salt Lake City, where she died. The Private Secretary was played during the holidays and everybody was astonished at the excellent business the company did. The Emma Juch Opera Company played three weeks, beginning January 5th, and their business was close upon $30,000. The success of the Wagner operas was so great during this engagement that the Baldwin was closed during the last week and the company moved over to the Grand Opera House. Lotta followed for a two weeks' engagement and turned people away during the last four nights of her second week. All the Comforts of Home followed with a four weeks' big run. The Little Tycoon Company came in for two weeks, which in turn was followed by the Bostonians for two weeks to immense business, Robin Hood being one of the biggest successes ever produced in the city. The County Fair for five weeks, followed by Men and Women for four weeks. The Bernhardt engagement was played at the Grand Opera House beginning April 24th, and it was a phenomenal engagement, she having played to $40,000 in the performances.

WHY DO NOT CARS RUN TO OXFORD STREET

A Question Asked of the Officers of the Oakland and Berkeley Rapid Transit Company.

The Ayrlee family of Parker street, Berkeley, is now divided, Mrs. Ayrlee has for some time—so report goes—desired to take a trip East, but her husband strenuously objected. On Thursday last, Mrs. Ayrlee packed several trunks and departed for New Orleans with her two children. When her better half returned home from ... in the evening and found ... had flown. He was more ... at least his neighbors say ... to know, neighbors gen-...

...Railroads.

... East Berkeley have a ... to the Oakland and Berkeley ... Transit Company. Why is it that the electric cars stop at the corner of Shattuck avenue and Center street, and yet the company has a franchise and has laid their tracks to Oxford street? The business men on Center street, from Shattuck avenue to Oxford street, were greatly inconvenienced during the laying of the track, as the street was torn up and in an untravelable condition for several weeks, and yet a car has never run to Oxford street. The track is at present a nuisance, as it is above the grade of the street and spoils the roadway for driving purposes. The failure of the company to run their cars to the end of the line is not only condemned by the residents and business men along the abandoned portion, but severely criticised by the citizens generally, some of whom are talking of appearing before the Board of Town Trustees in regard to the matter.

GOLDEN GATE.

The Picnic of the Thistle Club at Shell Mound Park.

The Thistle Club of San Francisco will hold a picnic tomorrow at Shell Mound. This will be one of the largest if not the largest picnic of the season. Great preparations have been made for it by Captain Siebe, proprietor of the park and the members of the club. Many prizes will be given.

The business men of this town have not decorated as they should have done. Lorin is ablaze with bright colors and has entirely outdone Golden Gate in the matter of decorating for the Fourth of July.

Mrs. S. D. Moore has gone to San Jose where she will visit during the summer.

Frank Esmond is not getting well very rapidly and is yet in considerable pain.

PIEDMONT.

A Slight Delay on the Cable Road. Other Items of Interest.

Wednesday evening a slight disaster happened on the cable road, which caused a delay of several minutes. A wheel over which the cable runs on the hill division jumped from the box which held it. As a car came along the grip caught the wheel, bringing the car to a sudden stop and throwing the gripman forward onto the headlight. The grip let go the cable, thus saving a break of the cable. It was impossible to extricate the grip, so it had to be literally torn to pieces.

The hind wheel of a carriage which was being driven down Twenty-fourth street along the cable track became stuck in the cable slot Wednesday afternoon and occasioned a slight delay. A roadway is provided for vehicles and there is no necessity for driving on the cable roadbed.

Cement walks are laying on New Broadway, from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-third streets.

A handsome residence is in the course of construction on the avenue east of Piedmont avenue, near John street.

Since some of the conductors on the cable road have sacrificed their whiskers Conductor Beeny, who has a magnificent growth, has crowed. Now the boys intend to see that his whiskers go also and if he does not divest himself of them soon, they intend to do it for him. Gripman Davidson is at the head of the movement.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. Only one pill a dose. Try them.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING.

MOTHERS

Really know more about Children's Clothing than one-half the Clothing Dealers do: that is, they know whether a boy's suit is made the way it should be: whether it is sewed with cotton or linen thread, and all those little details that make Boys' Clothing durable and capable of standing the hard wear: and better than all, mothers know when the suit looks right on their own particular boy. We think our

CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT

Is acknowledged to be the largest and best in this State. It is certainly a great favorite with mothers. The common, ordinary clothing is not found here at all. If we kept that class of clothing we wouldn't have the elegant Children's Department we have. It's the

SUMMONS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE County of Alameda, State of California.

LU SWEET, Plaintiff,
vs.
W. H. B. SWEET, Defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, and complaint filed in said County of Alameda, in the office of said Clerk of said Superior Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to W. H. B. Sweet, defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after service on you of this summons, if served within this county, otherwise, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree against you dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between you, the defendant, and plaintiff herein named, upon the grounds: First—Of your willful desertion of said plaintiff; second—Of your failure to provide said plaintiff with the common necessaries of life, having the ability so to do; to allow said plaintiff to resume her maiden name of Lu Brown; and for costs and for general relief, as will more fully appear by reference to the complaint on file herein.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, this 9th day of June, A. D. 1891.

PROPOSALS

For Sweeping and Cleaning Public Streets of the City of Oakland.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC Works, Oakland, June 27th, 1891.

In accordance with resolution No. 993 of the Board of Public Works, sealed proposals will be received in open session of the Board of Public Works at their office in the City Hall, on Tuesday, the 7th day of July, 1891, for the sweeping and cleaning of streets in the city of Oakland, which are or may be hereafter paved with bituminous rock.

General conditions—The work to be done consists of sweeping and cleaning, with good effective machines, the public streets of the City of Oakland that are paved with bituminous rock, or those which may be hereafter so paved between the hours of ten (10) P. M. and six (6) A. M., during a term of one year, from July 15th, 1891.

Bidders will be required to state the sum per mile (lineal measurement) for sweeping and cleaning the streets and portions of streets, as hereinafter specified, under the following specifications, and as provided by the following schedule:

Sweeping—The streets to be cleaned in the following manner: Each street to be sprinkled by a watering cart when and where necessary; the entire surface of the roadway, unless prevented by obstructions, to be thoroughly swept from the center toward the gutters, the sweepings to be collected by hand and immediately removed from the street, and should any of the sweepings be deposited upon the sidewalks or remain in the gutters or upon the cesspool covers at the corners of the streets, the same must be swept off by hand and removed at the same time as the rest of the sweepings, prior to 6 o'clock each morning, and all the work to be done and performed to the entire satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Public Works.

The contractor will be required to report in writing to the office of the Superintendent of Streets, by 9 A. M. daily, the streets or parts of streets cleaned during the twenty-four hours preceding.

The Superintendent of Streets, or a Deputy designated for that purpose, shall make examination daily of all the streets or parts of streets so reported as having been cleaned during the last preceding twenty-four hours, and if the Superintendent of Streets is satisfied with the manner in which said work has been performed, he shall enter in a book kept for that purpose the name of the streets and parts of streets, with the lineal feet in measurement of the work so accepted.

If upon such examination the Superintendent of Streets, or his Deputy, shall find that the streets or parts of streets directed to be cleaned, and as reported by the contractor as having been cleaned, are not thoroughly swept and cleaned to his satisfaction and approval, he shall make a statement in writing of such work as has not been done to his satisfaction, and deliver the same to the contractor upon the same day, and the contractor shall not be credited with the same, or allowed any payment therefor. Should the contractor feel aggrieved by reason of such action of the Superintendent of Streets he may appeal therefrom to the Board of Public Works at their next meeting, who, after examination, may remedy and correct the action of the Superintendent of Streets, and the decision of said board shall be final and conclusive in the matter.

If the decision of the Superintendent of Streets is sustained upon such appeal the contractor shall forthwith proceed to clean such streets or parts of streets not cleaned as aforesaid to the satisfaction of said Superintendent of Streets. If the contractor shall fail to perform said work as aforesaid to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets then the Superintendent of Streets shall forthwith report such failure to perform said contract to the Board of Public Works, and after examination if it shall appear that the contractor has neglected or failed to perform all of said work, then the Board of Public Works shall terminate the contract and institute proceedings to recover the amount provided for as liquidated damages in the bond hereinafter mentioned, executed for the due performance of said work.

The contractor will be required to clean all the streets and parts of streets, as designated by the annexed schedule, and by the Superintendent of Streets in pursuant thereof, provided that, whenever, in the judgment of the Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Public Works, inclement or rainy weather render the sweeping and cleaning of the streets inexpedient, the work shall be suspended by the contractor on direction to that effect, also provided that when the pavement of any street, or parts of streets, becomes too much broken to be properly swept, such street or portion thereof, as may be in bad repair, shall not be swept during the time the same shall be out of repair.

The contractor will not be required to remove any sand, dirt or rubbish placed upon any street by railroad companies in the laying and repair of tracks, or by any individual or corporation engaged in laying pipes, sewers, or other work, by reason of which sand, dirt or rubbish shall be deposited upon the street.

The number of miles of streets swept and cleaned during the month shall be made out at the end of each month from the book of record kept by the Superintendent of Streets, and payment made monthly therefor at the rate per mile of the accepted bid.

The Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Public Works may suspend sweeping on any street or portion of street named in this schedule, when in their judgment such sweeping is unnecessary; they may also order any street or portion of street not included therein, cleaned to correspond with the schedule for sweeping of that locality.

The contractor will be required to comply with such regulations governing the work as the Superintendent of Public Streets and the Board of Public Works may provide, and all work must be done between the hours of 10 P. M. and 6 A. M., unless by special permit of the Superintendent of Streets.

Where it is specified that the streets or parts of streets shall be swept so many times per month, it must be understood that they shall be swept at regular intervals during the month, to be designated by the Superintendent of Streets.

Intending bidders will estimate and state a price for which they will sweep and clean each lineal mile of streets, in accordance with the specifications, with the distinct understanding that the board reserves the right to reject all bids, if the public good require.

Streets to be swept eight times each month:
Broadway, Wharf to Nineteenth, 5000 feet.
Eighth, Franklin to Washington, 710 feet.
Franklin, Seventh to Fourteenth, 1880 feet.
Ninth, Broadway to Washington, 800 feet.
Telegraph avenue, from Sixteenth to Thirty-sixth, 6800 feet.
Twelfth street, from Broadway to Franklin, 33[illegible] feet.

All bids must be made upon the blank forms of the board; which will be furnished upon application, by the Secretary.

All bids must be accompanied by a check certified by some responsible bank, made payable to the order of J. M. Bracy, Clerk of the Council, for $100, which check shall be forfeited to the city of Oakland should the bidder receiving the award fail within ten days to enter into a contract and furnish a good and sufficient bond in a sum not to exceed $2000 for the faithful performance of the same.

By order of THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.
C. L. DAM, Secretary.

Probate Notice.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY of Alameda, State of California.

In the matter of the estate of Anna L. Murphy, deceased.

Notice of time set for proving will, etc.

Notice is hereby given that a petition for the probate of the will of Anna L. Murphy, deceased, and for the issuance to Victor H. NOTICE

....OF....

SPECIAL ELECTION,

....TO BE HELD....

TUESDAY, JULY 14, A. D., 1891,

To Determine Whether the Boundaries of the City of Oakland Shall Be Altered, and New Territory Be Annexed to, Incorporated In and Made a Part of Said City.

WHEREAS, The Council of the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, did, on June 1, A. D. 1891, in accordance with a petition in writing, signed by more than one-fifth of the qualified electors of the City of Oakland, as shown by and computed with and computed upon the number of votes cast at the last Municipal Election held in said city, said petition having been received by said Council and filed with the records of its proceedings, in which petition it is asked and proposed by the petitioners, that the boundaries of said city be so altered and enlarged as to include thereto and annexed to and be incorporated in and included in said city, the new territory which is described in said petition and which is hereinafter described, and in which it is further asked and proposed that there be submitted to the electors of said city and to the electors residing in said new territory proposed by such petition to be so annexed to said city, the question whether said new territory shall be annexed to and incorporated in and made a part of said city, and in which it is further asked and proposed that said question be submitted at a special election, to be held for that purpose, after legal notice given therefor, as provided by law, order and direct that notice of said election be given, and the Clerk of said Council was directed to give notice thereof by the publication of a notice thereof, at least four successive weeks prior to said election, in THE MORNING TIMES, a newspaper printed and published in the said City of Oakland and in the Alameda Argus, a newspaper printed and published outside of the said City of Oakland, but within the said county of Alameda, such notice to distinctly state the proposition to be submitted as in the ordinance so ordering specified, designating specifically the boundaries of the territory so proposed to be annexed and inviting the electors of the city and said new territory so proposed to be annexed, to vote upon the proposition of said proposed annexation, by placing upon their ballots the words "For Annexation" or "Against Annexation" as the electors respectively may be in favor of, or against such annexation, said ordinance so passed June 1, A. D. 1891, and approved June 1, 1891, by Melvin Chapman, Mayor of the City of Oakland, being designated as "Ordinance No. 1279," and entitled "An ordinance providing for a special election to determine whether the boundaries of the city of Oakland shall be altered and new territory be annexed to and made a part of said city;" and,

WHEREAS, Section one of "An Act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government, and municipal control of annexed territory," approved March 19, 1889, provides that the boundaries of any incorporated town or city, which may heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized or reorganized, may be altered, and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in the Act provided, to wit:

"The Council, Board of Trustees or other legislative body of any such municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory asked to be annexed to such corporation and signed by not less than one-fifth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed upon the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election held therein, must, without delay, submit to the electors of such municipal corporation, and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question shall be submitted at a special election to be held for that purpose and no other; and such legislative body is hereby empowered to and it shall be its duty to cause notice to be given of such election by the publication of a notice thereof in a newspaper printed and published in such municipal corporation, and also in a newspaper, if any such there be printed and published outside of such corporation, but in the county in which the territory so proposed to be annexed is situated, in such case at least once a week for a period of four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted, to wit: that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of such municipal corporation the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof; and in said notice the qualified electors of said municipal corporation and the qualified electors residing in said territory so proposed to be annexed shall be invited to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words 'For Annexation' or 'Against Annexation' or words equivalent thereto. Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty to establish and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, and the place or places at which the polls will be opened in such territory so proposed to be annexed and also in such municipal corporation. And such place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places within such municipal corporation, and also that or those commonly used within such new territory, if any such there be. Such legislative body is empowered to and it shall appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such municipal corporation, and for such voting place in said new territory, two Judges and one Inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election shall be in conformity as far as may be with the general laws of this State concerning elections, and the Judges and Inspectors of such election shall, immediately on the closing of the poll, count the ballots, make up and certify the tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, seal and then immediately return the same as below provided, doing so as nearly as practicable in the manner provided in the election laws of this State; but the ballots, tally-sheets, and returns shall be so returned to and deposited with the clerk of such legislative body. Such legislative body shall at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to open and canvass said ballots, tally-sheets, and returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting if practicable, and in any event as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments if possible, until said canvass is completed. Such canvass by such legislative body shall be conducted and completed as follows: The ballots cast in such outside territory, so proposed to be annexed, together with the tally-sheets and returns belonging therewith, shall be canvassed separately; and the ballots cast inside of said municipal corporation together with their tally-sheets and returns shall be canvassed separately. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the whole number of ballots cast in such outside territory, the whole number of ballots cast in such municipal corporation, the number thereof cast in each in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast in each against annexation, and if it shall appear from such canvass, that a majority of all the ballots cast in such outside territory, and a majority of all the ballots cast inside of said municipal corporation are in favor of annexation, the Clerk or other officer performing the duties of such legislative body shall promptly make and certify under the seal of said municipal corporation, and transmit to the Secretary of State a copy of said record so entered upon said minutes, together with a statement showing the date of said election and the time and result of said canvass, which document shall be filed by the Secretary of State immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the Secretary of State, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be to all intents and purposes a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation. No territory which at the time such petition for such proposed annexation is presented to such legislative body, forms any part of any incorporated town or city, shall be annexed under the provisions of this Act, and

WHEREAS, Section two of this Act provides that the legislative body of any incorporated town or city which is or shall be divided into wards, and to which territory has been heretofore or shall be hereafter annexed, must by ordinance either so alter the boundaries of the wards of such municipal corporation as to include such annexed territory in one or more wards, adjoining such annexed territory, or make of such annexed territory one or more additional wards; provided, that the number of wards shall not be so increased as to exceed the number which such municipal corporation may according to law have. In altering the boundaries of wards, or creating new wards, regard must be had to the number of inhabitants, so that each ward shall contain, as near as may be an equal number of inhabitants, exclusive of persons incapable of citizenship in this state

[illegible] in conformity with the provisions of the statute hereinbefore cited, and the said ordinance, notice is given that a special election for the purpose of determining the question herein submitted, is hereby called and will be held in the said City of Oakland, and in the said new territory proposed to be annexed thereto (which said territory so proposed to be annexed is in said ordinance and hereinafter specifically described), on

TUESDAY, JULY 14, A.D. 1891,

For the purpose of submitting to the electors of said municipal corporation and to the electors residing in said territory by said ordinance so proposed to be annexed to said city and corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to and incorporated in and made a part of said city and municipal corporation and for no other purpose. I should be very sorry indeed for the author of this foolish item if he were commanded to produce the "business adviser" and bring him into my presence to repeat the assertion. It would be an unpleasant experience for both of them.

I suppose an item like that fills space and causes comment, but it seems hardly fair to invent so absolute a falsehood regarding one who has patiently worked her way alone and unaided over obstacles that would have conquered a less persistent nature, and whose income has always been devoted to the use of other people. MISS BATES TURNS OVER A NEW LEAF.

Walking along Broadway a few days ago, I met a middle aged woman, of handsome face, her brown hair just peeping out from under a stylish bonnet. A dignity of carriage attracted my eye, and I recognized in her a clever literary woman, who, two years ago, read her own obituary in almost every paper in the land. She rallied from a dangerous attack of pneumonia, and last week, when the papers announced that Charlotte Fiske Bates had just been married to Mr. Roge, one-half of the literary world arched its eyebrows in surprise. No one looking at this radiantly happy bride would associate her with the tomb. Occasionally one sees a piece of work from her pen in one of the periodicals, but, as a friend said to me recently when she read one of her poems: "Why, how strange! Miss Bates has been dead over two years, and this magazine has just reached her contribution in its safe!" Mrs. Roge is full of health, of robust frame, and her eyes sparkle merrily as you greet her "as one from the grave." Longfellow looked upon the then Miss Bates as one of his most valuable friends, and she aided him considerably in compiling "Poems of Places," and two of her compilations are from his works.

Mr. Roge, who is both an artist and a writer, is the nephew and namesake of Grant's Secretary of the Navy—Adolph Edouard Borie.

RACE PROBLEM LITERATURE.

A rather startling addition to literature on the race problem is to be offered this summer in the form of a novel, in which a black man figures as the hero. The plot is said to be very ingenious. A negro, born on English soil, the son of barbarians, is made a being of wealth, education and refinement, absolutely ignorant that he is in any way inferior to those members of the Caucasian race he sees daily. Upon discovering his real status in society the hero flies to America and proceeds to solve the race problem. After five years' steady grappling with this egregious task he throws it up and inflames the negro of both North and South to pillage and murder. He devotes himself so thoroughly to a course of revenge upon the white race that his neck is in danger and he flies the country. The hero subsequently returns to Africa, the home of his fathers, leaving an erratic white woman and several black ones to mourn his flight. The author of this book is Beckles Willson, a young Englishman, who has spent several years in the South studying the race question. It is to be entitled "The Remarkable Experiment of Mr. Inigo Bright," and will be issued by the Lovells.

SOME SUMMER LITERARY GOSSIP.

Frank H. Stockton's latest story, "The Squirrel Inn," is to be brought out in book form when it completes its run in the Century.

The early autumn will see George Kennan's book on "Siberia and the Exile System" on the market.

Some one asked James Parton not long ago where he had his country seat. "Country seat? People who write books do not have country seats! Country seats belong to those who sell books and buy them."

After a summer outing Colonel Thomas W. Knox will begin the thirteenth volume of his "Boy Travelers" series. The twelfth volume has just left his hands, and will be out in September.

Laurence Hutton will complete this summer his three papers on "A Collection of Death Masks," make a new and fully illustrated edition of "Literary Landmarks of London," and prepare the "Correspondence of Charles Dickens and Wilkie Collins," for publication in book form.

The home of Augusta Evans Wilson, authoress, is named "Ashland," in compliment of the Kentucky home of Henry Clay.

Andrew Carnegie starts this week on another coaching trip for the summer, which will in all probability result in another book. The route will be from London to the north of Scotland, after which a long rest will be taken at Cluny Castle, in Scotland, to restore Mrs. Carnegie's health.

The Cassells have contracted with Eli Perkins for a new book by the humorist to be called "Eli Perkins' Biography." It will be a good book, too, full of imaginary reminiscences and gossip and jokes of all the people he has ever met.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger—or Julian Gordon, as she is best known in a literary way—will hereafter confine her efforts more directly to book-writing than to articles for the periodicals, despite the fact that she cannot accept one-half the offers which come to her from the editors of magazines.

An English literary friend of mine writes to me that he recently had a private glimpse of a graceful literary offering about to be sent by the Queen of Roumania to Queen Victoria. It consisted of some thirty of "Carmen Sylva's" poems, all written out in her own hand, and beautifully illuminated with illustrations, all made by the royal author. The volume was exquisitely bound in white vellum, with the cover also elaborately painted by Roumania's talented sovereign. EDWARD W. BOK.

MRS. SARAH B. COOPER uses the Royal Baking Powder in her own house, and particularly recommends it where the delicate or dyspeptic require specially pure, wholesome and nourishing food.

THE NEW REFORM SCHOOL.

Information Regarding the Whittier Institute Sent Out.

Police Judge Allen has received from the Secretary of State, a "circular of information regarding the State Reform School at Whittier, that was opened on July 1st. It recites the manner of commital there of incorrigibles, and says that each county must pay one-half of the cost of maintenance of all prisoners committed.

"The object of this school," it goes on, "is education, development, reformation, not punishment. Children sent here will be in a school similar to the public school, three and one-half hours daily, and will also be taught some trade or vocation."

The first two cases to be sent to the school from here will be Tommy Maloney and Martin Bitterly.

"THE EVENING POST."

A Special Shipping Edition Published This Evening.

The Evening Post of San Francisco has again asserted its right to a front-rank position among the newspapers of the Pacific coast. It issues this evening another of its special twelve-page editions, this time the shipping interests being exhaustively treated. Portraits are given of the leading men engaged in the business, and the statistics and information contained in the article will render it valuable on a file for reference purposes.

The policy of the Post is that of go-ahead journalism. Its patrons get the benefit of the Associated Press franchise of the Post, which paper is supplied with the full budget of telegraphic news from every quarter, while the local columns keep the record with everything of interest that is going on. Its daily social column is one of its many specialties, and in it may always be found a faithful synopsis of the gaieties and movements of upper tendom. Its "Chats on 'Change" is another pleasing feature, in it being daily recited in brief interviews with representative business men, opinions and information on commercial matters. All in all, the Post is a first-class institution and fully deserves the large patronage it receives.

A MISSING PIANO MAKER.

Frank Johnson of Berkeley Not Seen Since Sunday Last.

Frank Johnson, a piano maker employed in Kohler & Chase's factory in San Francisco, is reported missing from his home in Berkeley. Last Sunday afternoon he left home with the intention of going to Blair Park and ascending Inspiration peak for exercise. Nothing has been heard or seen of him since. His relatives fear that he was overcome by heat and died in the canyon about Piedmont. Johnson is 48 years old and weighs 160 pounds.

SULLIVAN AND SLAVIN.

They Will Very Likely Fight in San Francisco at the California Club.

The representatives of Sullivan and Slavin are now arranging a match for the two big heavy-weights, and all of the big athletic clubs are bidding for the encounter. The California Club has made an offer which, of course, is a few thousand better than that of any other club. But there seems to be some hitch in the proceeding as Slavin has sailed away to Europe. However, if you want your trunks transferred, or furniture moved there will be no hitch in the proceeding, if you have the work done by the Peoples' Express Company, Tenth street, between Broadway and Franklin street.
